

THE GETTYSBURG TIMES.

THIRTEENTH YEAR

GETTYSBURG, PA., WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 8th, 1915.

PRICE TWO CENTS.

THE FATAL DAY

For Straw Hats, SEPT., 15th,
Is Near at Hand.

You can buy any straw hat in the place for HALF PRICE OR LESS
Buy next Summer's hat now, you'll make good interest on the money.

Eckert's :: Store

"ON THE SQUARE"

PHOTOPLAY

CHARLIE CHAPLIN

in

A GENTLEMAN OF NERVE ..... KEYSTONE COMEDY
Charlie always has his nerve with him, but more than ever in this comedy.

A HOUSE OF CARDS ..... TWO REEL LUBIN
Lead on by a dream he sees of a house of cards from which he draws only the lucky ones, he takes money from his employer in buying stocks and loses all.

NEARLY A SCANDAL ..... EDISON COMEDY
This "comic" has one of the best plots ever seen in a photofarce. It is absolutely unforced and admits of no end of fun.

HER REALIZATION ..... ESSANAY
With G. M. ANDERSON and MARGUERITE CLAYTON.

ADMISSION TO-NIGHT 5c TO ALL

SHOW STARTS TO-NIGHT AT 8:30 AND WILL BE RUN IN THE FOLLOWING ORDER:—

Continuous
—from—
6.30 to 11 p.m.

WALTER'S
THEATRE

Admission
5 cents

The House of Quality Photo Plays

THE KING OF THE WIRE

a three act thriller ..... FEATURING PAT O'MALLEY DAREDEVIL THRILLER AND GLADYS HULETTE
The Talented Little Beauty.

The story contains a plot that is interesting throughout, never letting the attention of the beholder lack for a moment. The acting of the principals, Pat O'Malley as a wire walker who walks a slack telephone wire, high above the tree tops with the girl on his back, and Gladys Hulette as the girl reporter leaves nothing to be desired. The entire story is full of interesting situations.

PATHE DAILY NEWS ..... NO. 66

SCHOOL SUPPLIES

Pencils, Rulers,
Tablets, Erasers,
Note Books, Chalk,
Companions, Penholders.
EVERYTHING THE PUPIL NEEDS

PEOPLE'S DRUG STORE

Fisk Non Skid Casing Prices

3 x 30	$9.45	4 x 33	$20.00
3 1-2 x 30	12.20	4 x 34	20.35
3 1-2 x 32	14.00	4 1-2 x 36	28.70

Bigham's Hardware Store
Biglerville.

Severe Cuts In Price On FORD

SHOCK ABSORBERS.
SET OF FOUR $9.00.

We Put Them On. NO CHARGE.

EBERHART'S AUTO SUPPLY STORE
Eagle Hotel Bldg. Chambersburg, St

FREIGHTS CRASH, TRAINMEN HURT

Two Trains which Passed through here during the Night Figure in Collision. Traffic Blocked. All Trains are Late.

When two freight trains crashed this morning at Fowlesburg, a station between Gettysburg and Baltimore, two men were injured, eight cars piled in as many directions and the tracks so badly littered with wreckage that two crews were unable to open them for traffic until a late hour this afternoon. As a result, all trains west through Gettysburg were late and one train failed to appear at all. One trainman has not been found since the wreck and it is feared that he may have been killed.

The Baltimore Express, known as No. 8, and due here at 5:50 a. m. was sent down over the Main Line, and Gettysburg and New Oxford passengers were left entirely. The train due here at 10:16 from Baltimore, and known as No. 43, was an hour and a half late. It transferred passengers at the scene of the wreck with No. 48, the early morning passenger train from Hanover to Baltimore.

The outing of the Old Town Merchants' Association of Baltimore which was due to be brought here direct over the Western Maryland this morning, and scheduled to arrive in Gettysburg at 10:30 was sent over the Northern Central to Key Mar, from there over the same line to Hanover, and from Hanover to Gettysburg by way of the Western Maryland. They were more than an hour late arriving here. Dinner was taken at the Hotel Gettysburg and the battlefield trip was made in various conveyances. Several hundred composed the party.

Both of the trains which figured in the wreck were long "coal drags" which passed through Gettysburg during the night on their way to Port Covington. Details of the cause of the wreck are lacking but the supposition is that the first train was unexpectedly held up and that the second one failed to get the flag in time to keep it from crashing into the rear end of the other.

A trainman in the caboose of the first train, and the engineer of the second train were injured, though it is said that they were not seriously hurt. They are not known here.

FOR BIG PARADE

Shippensburg in Shape for Firemen's Meeting there this Week.

Shippensburg is in gala attire for the entertainment of the Cumberland Valley Volunteer Firemen's Association now in session there. The two companies, the Vigilant and Cumberland Valley erected arches in front of their buildings and a number of business places are decorated.

For the parade Thursday afternoon there will be three Chambersburg companies in line, together with companies from every town in the Valley, and also Middletown. Preparations are being made for a big crowd on Thursday.

FOR RED CROSS WORK

Archbishop from Mt. St. Mary's College to be Located in France.

Archbishop Robert Seton, a resident of Mt. St. Mary's College, is preparing to sail for France, where he will take up his residence permanently in Pau. Archbishop Seton will go to that country to aid in Red Cross work made necessary by the war.

He is now in Baltimore, where he is the guest of Cardinal Gibbons. A book of memoirs, which Archbishop Seton wrote while residing at Mt. St. Mary's, has just been sent to the printer for publication.

MORE TROUBLE

Gettysburg Youth Took Things at College, it is Charged.

Stanley Stape, in jail awaiting action of the Court on a charge of larceny preferred by officers of the Marines, is now confronted by another charge of larceny, the outgrowth of alleged thefts of a large quantity of athletic goods from the college. It is said that Officer Emmons found the things at the Stape home when search was made for the Marines' possessions.

BELL boy wanted at once. Hotel Gettysburg.—advertisement 1

WANT TO KNOW ABOUT PAVING

Councilmen Want State to Regard their Wishes about Kind of Material to be Used here. Pass Ordinance Finally. Other Business.

Town councilmen, at their September session Tuesday evening, were very solicitous about the kind of street paving the State Highway Department would determine upon for the coming work in Gettysburg, and several of them voted for the paving ordinance on its final passage with the understanding that the Department was to be consulted on this subject before the measure would be given Burgess Eicholtz for his approval.

The ordinance, which puts the matter in the hands of the State to ask for bids, was passed by a vote of 8 to 1, Mr. Stock being the minority. The passing of the ordinance was at once followed by a motion, made by Mr. Stock and carried, that the Highway Commissioner be asked what weight would be given the desires of the borough in making a selection of material for Gettysburg's streets. The borough attorney was instructed to send the necessary communication.

Some of the councilmen apparently are fearful that the State will put down some sort of paving here which local people do not wish. The practice of the State, it is said, is to regard a borough's request in this matter, if the bids are satisfactory, and if the State experts on the question consider the material all right for the town in which it is to be placed.

Council received considerable enlightenment on the matter of concrete paving when Bertrand C. Wheeler, of the Association of American Portland Cement Manufacturers explained the rapid growth of the popularity of this material for street paving, its merits, and the original and maintenance cost of the material. He was also called upon to answer a number of questions.

Hold up College Bill

The college presented a bill of $114.67 for the borough's share of the two squares of curbing on North Washington street, from Water street to Lincoln avenue. Mr. Stock objected to its being paid, saying that seventeen years ago the college agreed to put down pavement and curb, that the work had not been done then and that their only claim was under the curbing ordinances of more recent years. The fact that no taxes are received from the college was also presented. Other councilmen thought the bill should be paid. It was finally referred to the borough attorney to report on the borough's liability in the matter.

A. Danner Buehler, William H. Tipton, and Frank Deardorff were given to September 15 to build their pavements on Middle street. Upon their failure to do so before that time, the highway committee was instructed to do the work.

The secretary was instructed to notify the Gettysburg Railway Company to bring their tracks up to grade at the First National Bank corner, so that the highway committee could fill the chuck hole at that place.

A request from J. H. Widder for a permit to move the frame buildings from the rear of the Cobean lot on South Washington street across the road to his property was sent to council from Burgess Eicholtz who wished to know if it would be an infraction of the ordinance prohibiting the erection of frame buildings. Referred to the borough attorney for an opinion.

The property committee was instructed to buy twelve gum coats for the firemen, Mr. Dougherty urging the request.

Mr. Dougherty also presented a request from East Middle street residents for curbing east of Liberty street.

The placing of oil on Chambersburg, York, Hanover, and West Middle streets was authorized.

An appropriation of $35 was made toward the rent of the office for market master and police.

Peter Isenberg asked repairs to the alley in the rear of his property on East Middle street. Referred to the highway committee.

An invitation to attend the coming centennial in Hanover was received and Mr. Baughman was appointed to represent the council.

BELL boy wanted at once. Hotel Gettysburg.—advertisement 1

LOCAL DEALERS GET WARNING

Business Houses in the County which Sell Lime are Told that Inspection will be Made in Conformity with State Law.

All the Adams County dealers have received copies of the hundreds of letters which were sent from the state department of agriculture, warning manufacturers and dealers in lime used for agricultural purposes that the state will begin its inspection of this product under the new law on January 1. The inspection act is the result of years of effort on the part of the agricultural interests and will subject the lime and crushed limestone used for farming to the same supervision as fertilizers.

The act defines the various materials coming under the head of lime fertilizer and every sale of such stuff after January 1, must have with it a tag giving the name of the manufacturer or importer, the brand, net weight and description of contents. In addition all dealers are required to be licensed.

Statistics gathered by the state live stock sanitary board show that as a result of the repressive measures adopted by the board hog cholera, which was prevalent in 52 counties of the state 18 months ago, has been greatly reduced.

Heavy importations of crimson clover seed of low germination have caused the United States Department of Agriculture to warn farmers to ascertain the germination of the crimson clover seed they are using. Otherwise many crop failures are sure to result from using dead seed. Since July 15, 1915, 26 lots of crimson clover seed have been imported. In three of these lots, containing enough seed to sow over 2,850 acres, there was no seed that could be expected to grow under field conditions. In five other lots, aggregating enough to sow 8,600 acres, the seed only germinated from 45 to 50 per cent.

The Department of Agriculture has no power to prevent the admission of such seed, and it is therefore warning farmers to be on their guard in planting.

THOMAS—REINDOLLAR

Pretty Ceremony at the Home of the Bride in Taneytown.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at noon Tuesday when Miss Josephine Reindollar, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward E. Reindollar, and Dr. Oscar B. Thomas, Baltimore, were married at the home of the bride's parents at Taneytown. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Charles Trump, D. D., of Martinsburg, W. Va., in the presence of the immediate families.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Thomas, of Adams town, and is well known in the social and business life of Baltimore. The bride is a graduate of Irving College and is well known in Gettysburg.

After a wedding breakfast, the bridal couple left for an extended trip to the Adirondacks and through Canada to New York. After November 1, they will be at home in their apartment, Calvert Court, Baltimore.

FOR MOTHERS' PENSIONS

Will Continue to Give Funds for Worthy Cause.

At their meeting Tuesday the county commissioners decided to continue their mothers' pension appropriation which will be distributed by the same board which served during the past two years. For the 1915-1917 period the commissioners appropriated $1023.75, a like amount being given this county by the State. Half is available each year. Thirteen women in this county are now receiving aid through this agency.

WIPPERMAN—STAUFFER

Bride Recently Spent Several Days with Friends here.

Miss Lillian B. Stauffer and C. G. Wiperman, both of Harrisburg, were married Thursday in Baltimore. The bride was a recent guest of Miss Irene Riggs in Gettysburg.

FOR RENT: two or more rooms completely furnished for housekeeping. 117 Carlisle street.—advertisement 1

BLIGHT WILL INJURE CROP

Many Chestnut Trees in Woodlands of Adams County are Hurt by Prevalence of Disease. Cutting Down Some and Burning Others.

The chestnut blight in some parts of the mountain will, it is said, seriously affect the size of this year's crop. The section in the vicinity of Pen Mar has an exceptional amount of it and many fine trees have been cut down.

In just about one month's time the chestnut crop will begin to wend its way to Gettysburg. From reports from various sections it is learned that the chestnuts will begin to drop to the ground about the latter part of the first week in October. By that time there is, as a rule, sufficient frost to cause the burrs to burst. With the burrs once open, the chestnuts begin to fall.

The chestnut blight has interfered to a considerable extent with the yield of this year. A number of trees in all sections of the county are being killed annually by this disease, for which there seems to be no available remedy. Persons interested in trees are greatly alarmed over the way in which the disease is spreading.

The United States Department of Agriculture recommends the burning of trees afflicted with blight as a preventive of the disease spreading. It was said recently that if these instructions had been followed in a number of cases, the blight would not have spread as much as it has. There are a number of large trees among those which have been killed.

WRECKED $50,000 WALL

Heavy Rain Does Damage in and about Carlisle.

The cloudburst which swept over the western part of Adams County Monday night did a great deal of damage in the vicinity of Carlisle. The heaviest damage done was to a brick wall surrounding the summer home of L. S. Sadler, which was torn down for a distance of 175 feet.

The fence was erected several years ago at a cost of $50,000 being constructed of red tapestry brick, six feet high and several courses thick, the entire fence being approximately 2,000 feet in length.

For a while the wall acted as a dam against the water, which flowed down what is known as the "Walnut Bottom road", the original course of an old creek, but when the water reached a height of five feet the wall gave way.

Drowning cattle, marooning travelers on county highways, damaging growing crops and property, and trapping Grover Shryock in his mill at Creagerstown for hours, a cloudburst, swept over the northern section of Frederick county shortly after the visitation here. Waters rose in streams at the rate of three feet an hour.

Superintendent of Schools of Frederick County G. Lloyd Palmer, driving in an automobile to his home, eight miles north of Frederick and half a dozen other travelers, were held up on the Emmitsburg road because of the floods, which covered the roads to a depth of five and six feet in some places.

MISS SOPHIA M. FIDLER

Funeral will Take Place from her Home on Friday.

Miss Sophia M. Fidler died at the home of her brother, Daniel Fidler, near Hunterstown at 7:15 Tuesday evening aged 76 years. She had been ill for a week following a stroke of paralysis.

She was a native of Strabon township and a daughter of the late Daniel Fidler. She leaves three brothers, Daniel Fidler, Strabon township; John W. Fidler, Butler township; and Jacob W. Fidler, St. Louis.

Funeral Friday morning, meeting at her late home at 10 o'clock. Interment at Bender's Church.

MONTHLY SESSION

Will Follow Prayer Meeting with Christian Endeavor Business.

The Presbyterian Christian Endeavor Society will hold its regular monthly business meeting this evening after prayer meeting.

TELLS CAUSE OF BITTER PEACHES

Premature Ripening and Sick Trees Given as the Reason. Not All Fruit is Bitter, Contrary to Ideas of Some Purchasers.

More or less frequent complaint has been voiced during the past ten days of some of the peaches, sold in Gettysburg, being bitter. An explanation of this is given by Dr. Surface whose views may not meet the approval of local growers. He says:

Some consumers seem to be of the opinion this year that peaches are bitter, and they sincerely make and repeat the statement. It is surprising how little is really known, and how much is guessed, by the consumer when he speaks of peaches. For example, he does not know that during a rainy season all peaches have a tendency to cling to the stone more than during dry weather, and the greener the fruit the more it clings. The same fruit may be free as it becomes ripe.

While this tendency to cling is due to climatic or seasonal conditions, the bitterness of the peach is in no way connected with the same cause. Peaches are bitter when they are taken prematurely from sick trees. In other words, a sick tree produces bitter fruit, and ripens it prematurely. Early peaches are clings, followed by free stones, with the yellow varieties generally later than the white. These groups are mentioned in the order of desirability.

The man who can take free stones from his trees, and sell them for free, while his neighbor is yet selling clings, can dispose of his fruit more quickly than can his neighbor, although the premature free stones may be bitter, and the clings sweet. The same is to be said of all peaches. Where Elbertas are sold by some man a week earlier than they can be sold by his neighbor, it is an evidence that they are premature and from sick trees, and in most cases are bitter.

Fruit that ripens at its normal period on healthy trees is sweet, regardless of season. Premature and bitter fruit is liable to be over-size, or irregular in shape or both. It may be rounded on one side and flat on another. Normally grown and ripened sweet fruit runs more uniform in size, color and shape. Above all else, it ripens at its proper season.

We have seen Elberta peaches, for example, grown in Pennsylvania, offered for sale as early as the middle of August. The grower and seller acknowledged that they were bitter, being premature and from sick trees, but he said the public was demanding yellow fruit before its time, and appeared to be willing to pay the price for it and ignorant of its condition. Consequently, it was put on the market. Education on the part of the consumer will prevent the spread of the popular false idea that some years all peaches are bitter.

NEW RULING

Draying for College Boys is Given to Janitors.

Because much damage has been done in the past to the halls and stairways in the college dormitories by irresponsible parties transferring student baggage to and from trains, the Finance Committee of the college has decided that only the college janitors and men engaged by these janitors will hereafter be allowed to move student baggage in or out of the dormitories.

COMING EVENTS

Happenings Scheduled for Gettysburg during Coming Weeks.

Sept. 15—"A Pair of Sixes." Walter's Theatre.
Sept. 15—Gettysburg College Opens for Fall Term.
Sept. 20, 21—Convention, Harrisburg District of Methodist Church.
Sept. 30—"Bringing Up Father." Walter's Theatre.

HOMES wanted for three girls, aged 3, 5 and 10 years. Apply County Home.—advertisement 1

GOOD cook and chambermaid wanted at once. Hotel Wabash.—advertisement 1

THE Hub will be closed to-morrow on account of holiday.—advertisement 1

THE GETTYSBURG TIMES

Published Daily Except Sunday
Times and News Publishing Company
W. LAVERE HAFER, Secretary and Treasurer.
PHILIP R. BIKLE, President.
PHILIP R. BIKLE, Editor.

SUBSCRIPTION: Served by carrier in Gettysburg for 25 cents per month. Mailed outside of Gettysburg for 25 cents per month. Single copies to non-subscribers, 2 cents.

If you receive THE TIMES by mail you can find the date up to which you are paid on the pink address label on your paper. The date will be changed within ten days after your money is received at The Times Office.

Entered August 16, 1904, at Gettysburg, Pa., as second-class matter, under Act of Congress March 3, 1879.

BELL PHONE UNITED PHONE
Office in Northwest corner of Centre Square, Gettysburg, Pennsylvania.

Want ads. One cent per word each insertion. Two cents a word if guaranteed first page position. Resolutions of respect, poetry and memorials one cent per word.

TO OUR READERS
The Gettysburg Times takes absolutely no part in politics, being neutral on all such matters. Anything that appears in our general news columns, concerning state or national politics, is furnished us by The American Press Association, a concern which gives the same news to Republican, Democratic, Prohibition, or Socialist papers and which is strictly non-partisan. Our advertising columns are open to all candidates of all parties.

Cool Nights Coming

They mean that a blanket for the horse and a robe for the driver will be acceptable.

We are prepared with a line of usual merit for your inspection.

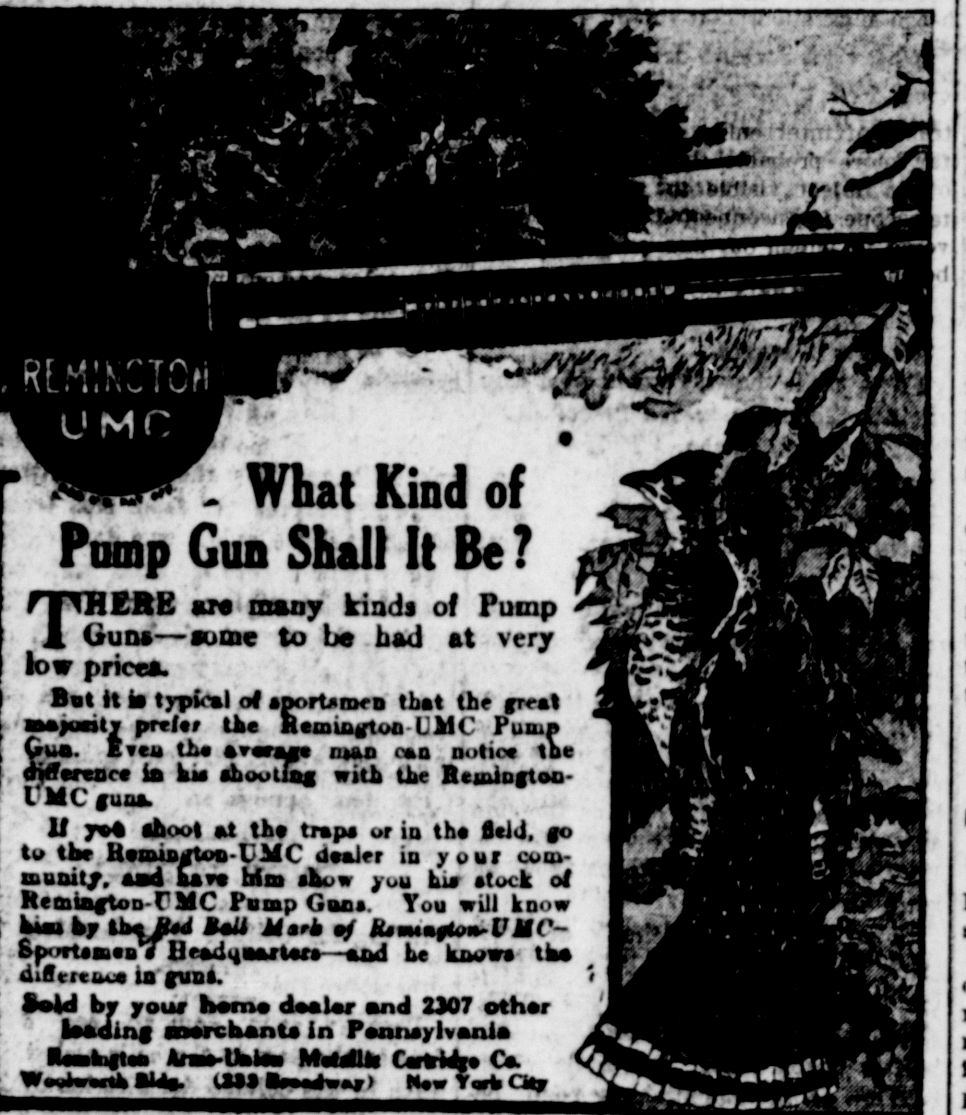

The blanket you want at the price you want to pay.

Adams County Hardware Co.

New Autumn Styles For Men

Ready for Men eager to learn what the Arbiters of fashion have decreed for the coming season, are the Scores of new Shades of Brown and Gray.

J. D. LIPPY, Tailor.
STORE OPEN EVERY EVENING.

What Kind of Pump Gun Shall It Be?

THERE are many kinds of Pump Guns—some to be had at very low prices.

But it is typical of sportsmen that the great majority prefer the Remington-UMC Pump Gun. Even the average man can notice the difference in his shooting with the Remington-UMC gun.

If you shoot at the traps or in the field, go to the Remington-UMC dealer in your community, and have him show you his stock of Remington-UMC Pump Guns. You will know him by the Red Ball Mark of Remington-UMC—Sportsmen's Headquarters—and he knows the difference in guns.

Sold by your home dealer and 2307 other leading merchants in Pennsylvania
Remington Arms-Union Metallic Cartridge Co.
Westworth Bldg. (233 Broadway) New York City

Engines, Machines, Mills

I hold the agencies for the Fairbanks, Morse, Quincy, and Domestic gasoline and oil engines; Maytag Electric power and hand washing machines, wood saws, chopping mills, spray and electric light outfits, compressors, etc.

The finest equipped cabinet shop in the county. All work guaranteed.

W. M. CONOVER

Cabinet Maker and Machinist
Cor. Middle and Stratton streets, Gettysburg

Cattle & Hog Sale

On OCTOBER 2nd.

I will sell at my residence in Mt. Pleasant township at Kilpatrick Schoolhouse, 1.2 mile north of Sugartown; 16 Head of Cattle: 10 are milk cows, and 50 Head of Hogs.

J. S. MARING

FARM FOR SALE

110 Acres in Cumberland Township, 2 miles from Hartney, 10 Acres Timber; balance high state of cultivation; running water, well fenced. 9 Room Brick House and Summer House. Cement walks, Bank Barn 50 x 74 and Steer shed; water system to all buildings, a model farm, price $6,500, terms to suit purchaser. Inquire

RUNK & PECKMAN,
Gettysburg, Pa.

CZAR IN COMMAND OF RUSSIAN ARMY

Elimination of Grand Duke Nicholas May Follow.

GREAT BATTLE IS RAGING

Muscovite Center and Pursuing German Engaged in Big Conflict, Says Berlin.

Paris, Sept. 8.—Emperor Nicholas has taken over the command of Russian armies.

Whether this will result in the complete elimination of Grand Duke Nicholas is not yet known. Apparently the czar's action has been kept a close secret in Petrograd, because the first intimation of this action came in a personal dispatch from the Russian ruler to President Poincaré.

The message from the czar to the president follows:

"In placing myself at the head of my valiant army, I take particular pleasure in addressing to you, mon sieur president, most sincere wishes for the grandeur of France and the victory of its glorious army."

Replying President Poincaré said: "I know that in taking the command your majesty intends to pursue energetically until the final victory the war forced upon the allied nations."

At the same time President Poincaré expressed to the czar warmest regards in the name of France.

Hold Germans South of Riga.

London, Sept. 8.—Further evidence of the determination of the Russians to hold what little of Galician territory is still in their hands and, when ever forced to retreat, to render the gains of the Austro-Germans as costly in the Austrian war office statement issued in Vienna.

The Germans apparently have not been able to follow up by further progress toward Riga, their capture last Thursday, of the important bridgehead of Friedrichstadt. In this particular region there can be no question of the "Teutons" determination to dash ahead toward the great Russian Baltic seaport and to permit no considerations to interfere with their onward movement. It is, therefore, to be presumed that the Russians are putting up a strong and stubborn resistance, resolved to hold the port at all odds.

Dispatches from Copenhagen tell of a new entrance of German warships in the gulf of Riga, driving Russian ships before them. This is taken by some military observers to mean that the Germans are preparing for a joint land and sea attack upon Riga, General von Beseler, called the "Battering Ram," in recognition of his capture of Antwerp and Novogeorgievsk, to direct the land bombardment.

Great Battle in East.

Berlin, Sept. 8.—Russia's retreating army has apparently been overtaken by the pursuing Germans and forced into battle. The general staff reported that a great conflict is raging at Wolkowysk, forty-five miles southeast of Grodno.

The fighting is going on in the city of Wolkowysk, an important railway junction, and extends to a point twenty-five miles southwest of Stomim. It is through this region that the center of the Russian army had to retreat after its abandonment of the Grodno-Brest-Litovsk front.

DISCLAIMS PEACE MOVE

Berlin Says the Reports Are an Invention.

London, Sept. 8.—A dispatch to Reuters Telegram company from Amsterdam says:

"A semi-official Berlin dispatch received here describes as an invention reports in the foreign press that Germany, at Emperor William's request, is seeking American mediation for peace."

Peace Hope Growing at Vatican.

Rome, Sept. 8.—The "Osservatore Romano," official organ of the Vatican, issues an article intimating that the hope of peace is growing strong among papal officials. It hints that Germany will consent to give up Belgium and the French territory, which it has occupied. The article expresses the hope that the men of every nation will work for peace.

Pays $300 for Conscience.

Washington, Sept. 8.—A $300 contribution to the treasury conscience fund was received from a Maine woman who wrote that she wished to pay the duty on some clothes smuggled into the country for a friend twenty years ago.

Grandchild of Kaiser Dies.

Berlin, Sept. 8.—A daughter born to Princess Adalbert at Prinzén Villa last Saturday, died on Monday. A dispatch from Kiel said the Princess is recovering.

British Ship Torpedoed; Crew Saved.

London, Sept. 8.—The Harrison steamship Dictator, 4116 tons, from Liverpool, has been sunk by a German submarine. Her crew of forty-two were landed.

WANTED: housekeeper, between 35 and 40 years preferred. C. T. Mansberger, Route 1 Aspers.—advertisement

NOBLEWOMEN AS NURSES

Czar's Daughters Olga and Tatiana as Red Cross Nurses.

Photos by American Press Association.

MRS. CGDEN ARMOUR HELD UP IN HER HOME

Millionaire's Wife Fights One of the Robbers.

Chicago, Sept. 8.—Mrs. J. Ogden Armour, wife of the millionaire packer, fought hand to hand with a masked robber in her Michigan Avenue residence and although stunned for a moment by a "billy," pluckily resisted him while she called for help.

The police believe that at least three men were involved in the robbery. Cash amounting to $75 and jewels whose value brought up the total of the booty to $3385 were taken. None of it has yet been recovered.

During her struggle against the intruders, Mrs. Armour grasped the barrel of a revolver which had been pressed into her face, tore it from the hand of the burglar and tossed it over her shoulder.

The police believe that a pearl necklace, for which Mr. Armour was obliged to pay $9000 duties when he brought it to this country from France in 1901, was the loot the thieves sought. The necklace was appraised at the time at more than $15,000. This was not in the Armour residence when the robbers forced their way in.

None of the robbers has been caught and the police have no clue of any value. It is believed that two of the robbers did the actual thieving, while a third waited near the house in an automobile.

"JOKE" CAUSES BOY'S DEATH

Fatally Injured by Fellow-Employees of Steel Works.

Allentown, Pa., Sept. 8.—Coroner Goheen and Detective Herbert Bachman were called to St. Luke's by the death of Joseph Wean, aged fifteen, from injuries received at the hands of fellow-employees at the Saucon steel plant.

It is charged that several men came upon the boy while he was sleeping and as a "joke" tried to inflate him with an air hose having a pressure of 80 pounds.

They knelt on his body while trying to make him inflate a human balloon and when they released him the youth was unable to rise. The doctors state that the air burst internal organs. The alleged jokers will in all probability be held for manslaughter.

Wilson Won't Permit Indorsement.

Washington, Sept. 8.—President Wilson has decided not to allow Democrats in New Jersey, his home state, to indorse him for another term because he feels it might seem as though he were taking advantage of the "international situation" to gain personal advantage. A letter from Secretary Tammlet to Sheriff Kinkead, of the Hudson county Democratic committee, made public at the white house, expresses that view.

Woman Dead; Home Barricaded

Pottsville, Pa., Sept. 8.—Miss Castle Baker, who lived in a cottage at Schuylkill Haven, was found dead in her home after the windows and doors, which had been barricaded, were broken down by neighbors. Coroner G. H. Moore is investigating evidence of foul play. The body was much decomposed, Miss Baker last being seen alive on August 29.

Powerful Hammer. A compressed air hammer has been invented for breaking up pavements.

DUMBA ANGRY AFTER VISIT

His Call on Secretary Lansing Seemed Unsatisfactory.

25 MINUTES TO EXPLAIN

Rumors in Washington That Austrian Ambassador May Be Recalled for Munition Affair.

Washington, Sept. 8.—Dr. Constantine Theodor Dumba, the Austrian ambassador, did not seem pleased with the result of his visit to Secretary Lansing to explain the letter he sent to the Vienna government bearing on his activities to curtail manufacture of American war munitions.

In fact, he seemed angry as he left the state department.

He met the secretary by appointment and was with him just twenty-five minutes. "I have nothing today," he answered sharply to newspaper men who questioned him on his visit as he emerged from the secretary's office.

"Are you going away?" he was asked.

"I am going back to New York," he replied. "My conference with Secretary Lansing is through."

Secretary Lansing would answer no inquiries as to Dr. Dumba's visit. He said that the conference was entirely personal and that he could give out nothing.

It is understood, however, that the ambassador submitted to Secretary Lansing a copy of instructions he had received from his government pertaining to a law enacted in Austria making it a criminal offense for subjects to accept employment in factories producing munitions of war for the nation's enemies.

Rumors were in circulation in Washington that Dr. Dumba may be recalled by his government as a solution of the difficulty in which he has become involved. The evident unsatisfactory nature of his interview with the secretary of state gave impetus to the report and the developments of the day were considered as ominous for the ambassador.

When he left the state department he started to return to the embassy before arriving there, however, he ordered his chauffeur to return to the state department. Arriving there, he went at once to see Third Assistant Secretary of State Phillips. He would not discuss his mission with him.

Dr. Dumba again refused to discuss his case when he left Assistant Secretary Phillips' office. The latter referred all questions to Secretary Lansing, who again stated positively that he would not make any statement.

CONFESSES TRIPLE MURDER

Love for Snow Hill (Md.) Farmer's Wife Prompted Crime, Says Slayer.

Baltimore, Sept. 8.—"I shot her. I am glad I killed all of them. My heart is satisfied now, and I feel easier than it has for many months."

Laying his right hand dramatically over his heart in his cell at the city jail, Frank Grano, the Italian, who killed John Levin P. Robinson, his wife and their farm hand, Alonzo Redden, on the Robinson farm near Snow Hill, Worcester county, told how and why he committed the murders.

Grano was rushed from the jail at Salisbury to escape a mob, which had threatened to lynch him, taken to Cambridge and placed aboard the State steamboat Governor Thomas, and landed safely in the jail here.

Grano blames the triple tragedy on his love for Mrs. Robinson—a love, which he says was returned until Redden, the farm hand, won her away from him.

EGYPTIAN MINISTER STABBED

Minister of Pious Foundations Fires at His Assassin.

Cairo, Egypt, Sept. 8.—Fathy Pasha, minister of pious foundations in the Egyptian government, was stabbed three times with a knife by an employee of the ministry of finance, who attacked him from behind while he was conversing with friends in the Cairo railroad station.

Fathy Pasha fired with a revolver at his assailant, but missed him. Spectators then seized the man.

The wounds of the minister are not serious.

Child Dies After Vaccination.

Lancaster, Sept. 8.—Helen Leed, aged nine, died at the General hospital of lockjaw, contracted from a poisonous infection which followed a vaccination. Her sister, Carrie, aged ten, died a week ago following vaccination.

British Controls 715 Munitions Plants.

London, Sept. 8.—Minister of munitions announced that 180 additional plants making war munitions have been taken under control by the British government since September 6. The total now is 715.

Found Dead Under Auto.

Tyrone, Sept. 8.—Harry Albright, forty-five years old, a business man of Tyrone, was found dead under his automobile beside the Pennsylvania railroad tracks, near Gratzville. In the darkness of last night his car had plunged over a fifty-foot embankment.

Wonderful Modern Surgery. A French surgeon claims to have invented a method for planting eyebrows and eyelashes.

AMBASSADOR DUMBA

May Be Recalled Because of Munition Affair.

HUSBAND SHOTS WIFE AND HIMSELF

Allentown Man in Jealous Rage After Finding Letters.

Allentown, Sept. 8.—The condition of Mr. and Mrs. Milton W. Morrow, who figured in the double tragedy in which he shot her and then tried to kill himself upon their return from a motor trip to Lancaster, is described as critical by the hospital surgeons.

Both are unconscious and unable to make any formal statement. That both did not die at once is regarded as extraordinary, as one bullet plowed through Mrs. Morrow's face and the other through her neck, coming out above the head. Morrow, it is said, would be unable to talk even if he wanted to, as most of his mouth was shot away.

The motive of the tragedy is only hinted at. Relatives, neighbors and friends say Morrow has always been jealous of his wife. According to the tale told at police headquarters, Morrow during the absence of his wife, who was visiting at Lancaster, found some letters that greatly disturbed him. On her return he is declared to have found another letter under the door, which set him raging.

A violent quarrel followed, during which he pushed his wife into the pantry, even before she had time to remove her hat.

Fifteen minutes after the homecoming Mrs. Morrow crawled across the yards, that separated the two homes, rang the bell of the Butterwick home, and when the door opened, she fell inside. Blood was streaming from bullet wounds. To the startled Butterwicks she said her husband had shot her twice and then shot himself.

John Miller accompanied the excursion to Baltimore Monday.

Eugene Groat spent Saturday and Sunday at the home of his father-in-law, Charles Strassbaugh, and family. Jacob Weaver spent Sunday at the home of his mother, Mrs. Henry Weaver, of near White Hall.

Miss Marie Keiser spent Sunday at the home of Miss Mary Keiser.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Shull and family have returned home after spending the past week at the home of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Little.

The banns of marriage were published in St. Joseph's Church Sunday morning between Joseph Murren, son of Mrs. Jacob Murren, and Miss Estella Eck, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Eck, of near this place.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Noel, of Midway, spent Sunday at the home of William Noel and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bucher and their son were thrown from their buggy into a culvert when a young colt Mr. Bucher was driving took fright at a motorcycle. The wheel and top of the buggy were broken but the occupants escaped injury. It is said that the motorcycle did not carry a light. The accident took place Sunday evening.

Fail Kills Woman, Ninety.

Lancaster, Sept. 8.—Mrs. Sarah Shreiner, ninety years old, made a misstep and fell, fracturing her hip. She died from the shock.

Honor Goethals at Panama Fair.

San Francisco, Sept. 8.—"Goethals day," in honor of Major General George W. Goethals, was celebrated at the Panama-Pacific exposition. Thousands of visitors went to the grounds to hear an address by the builder of the Panama canal.

Fail Kills Woman, Ninety.

Lancaster, Sept. 8.—Mrs. Sarah Shreiner, ninety years old, made a misstep and fell, fracturing her hip. She died from the shock.

WEATHER EVERYWHERE.

Observations of United States weather bureaus taken at 8 p. m. yesterday follow:

	Temp.	Weather.
Atlantic City...	74	Clear.
Boston.....	72	Cloudy.
Buffalo.....	68	Cloudy.
Chicago.....	78	Clear.
New Orleans...	82	P. Cloudy.
New York.....	70	Cloudy.
Philadelphia...	78	Cloudy.
St. Louis.....	80	Cloudy.
Washington.....	73	P. Cloudy.

The Weather. Partly cloudy, with probably local showers today and tomorrow; light to variable winds.

Good Idea for Currycomb. An inventor's currycomb consists of flexible loops of corrugated metal through which dirt passes easily.

PERSONAL NOTES AND BRIEF ITEMS

Paragraphs of News Telling of the Happenings in and about Town People Visiting Here and Those Sojourning Elsewhere.

Harry Veiner is spending the Jewish Holidays with friends in York.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Dalbey have returned to Philadelphia after spending several months with Dr. and Mrs. J. P. Dalbey.

Miss Myrtle Lady spent several days this week in Casstown with friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter L. Reynolds have returned home from their wedding trip to Harrisburg and other points.

Miss Elizabeth Van Cleave, of Baltimore street, is visiting friends in Harrisburg for several days.

Herbert A. Bream has returned to New York, after a ten days' vacation spent at his home on Seminary Ridge.

Rev. and Mrs. J. Charles Gardner, of Bendersville, were guests on Tuesday of Dr. and Mrs. C. G. Crist, East Middle street.

Mrs. Charles Schultz, of Baltimore, is a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Roddy, Steinwehr avenue.

Mrs. Mattie Taylor, of Findlay, Ohio, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Gardner, North Stratton street.

James Filligan, of Stamford, Connecticut, has returned home after a visit at the home of Franklin Rudisill.

Miss Grace Rudisill, of Lincoln avenue, is visiting friends in Philadelphia.

Mrs. John Delap and three children have gone to Kendall, Montana, where they will make their future home.

Miss Catharine Eppelman has returned to Philadelphia after visiting her aunt, Mrs. George Knab, of New Oxford.

BONNEAUVILLE

Bonneauville—Miss Mabel Eckenrode, of Littlestown, spent Saturday and Sunday with Misses Annie and Catharine Staub.

Miss Marie Codori, of Gettysburg, returned home Sunday after spending the past week at the home of the Misses Strassbaugh.

Lewis Smith and Miss Regina Chrimer were Hanover visitors Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Price, of York, motored to the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Fleigle Monday, and are spending several days there.

William Troutman and wife, of York, are spending their vacation among relatives.

John Miller accompanied the excursion to Baltimore Monday.

Eugene Groat spent Saturday and Sunday at the home of his father-in-law, Charles Strassbaugh, and family.

Jacob Weaver spent Sunday at the home of his mother, Mrs. Henry Weaver, of near White Hall.

Miss Marie Keiser spent Sunday at the home of Miss Mary Keiser.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Shull and family have returned home after spending the past week at the home of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Little.

The banns of marriage were published in St. Joseph's Church Sunday morning between Joseph Murren, son of Mrs. Jacob Murren, and Miss Estella Eck, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Eck, of near this place.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Noel, of Midway, spent Sunday at the home of William Noel and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bucher and their son were thrown from their buggy into a culvert when a young colt Mr. Bucher was driving took fright at a motorcycle. The wheel and top of the buggy were broken but the occupants escaped injury. It is said that the motorcycle did not carry a light. The accident took place Sunday evening.

Fail Kills Woman, Ninety.

Lancaster, Sept. 8.—Mrs. Sarah Shreiner, ninety years old, made a misstep and fell, fracturing her hip. She died from the shock.

Honor Goethals at Panama Fair.

San Francisco, Sept. 8.—"Goethals day," in honor of Major General George W. Goethals, was celebrated at the Panama-Pacific exposition. Thousands of visitors went to the grounds to hear an address by the builder of the Panama canal.

Fail Kills Woman, Ninety.

Lancaster, Sept. 8.—Mrs. Sarah Shreiner, ninety years old, made a misstep and fell, fracturing her hip. She died from the shock.

Honor Goethals at Panama Fair.

San Francisco, Sept. 8.—"Goethals day," in honor of Major General George W. Goethals, was celebrated at the Panama-Pacific exposition. Thousands of visitors went to the grounds to hear an address by the builder of the Panama canal.

Fail Kills Woman, Ninety.

Lancaster, Sept. 8.—Mrs. Sarah Shreiner, ninety years old, made a misstep and fell, fracturing her hip. She died from the shock.

Honor Goethals at Panama Fair.

San Francisco, Sept. 8.—"Goethals day," in honor of Major General George W. Goethals, was celebrated at the Panama-Pacific exposition. Thousands of visitors went to the grounds to hear an address by the builder of the Panama canal.

LETTERS FROM COUNTY TOWNS

Correspondents send in Many Items of Interesting News from their Respective Towns. Personals and Many Brief Items.

BENDERSVILLE

Bendersville—Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Gochnaur had as their guests on Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Troup, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gochnaur, of Bermudian, and Mr. and Mrs. John Peters.

Miss Edna Peters has returned from a three weeks' visit with relatives at Harrisburg.

Mrs. Lawrence Jacobs and daughter, Virginia, and Miss Jacobs, of Arendtsville, spent Sunday with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lerew.

Among those who attended the P. O. S. of A. celebration at Cashtown on Saturday were Misses Bessie and Ida Sheely and Misses Grace and Mary Stover.

Mr. and Mrs. William Taylor, of North Main street, entertained the following friends on Monday, I. P. Taylor, of Altoona; I. L. Taylor, of Gettysburg; I. P. Taylor, of Bigler; J. G. Taylor, of Center Mills; H. J. Taylor and Fred Groft, of Lancaster; Rev. H. E. Wicand, of Bedford; and Allen Knouse, of Knoxlyn.

Miss Bessie Bushman has returned from a visit with her mother at Carlisle.

Mrs. Annie McDermott, of Philadelphia, was a recent guest at the home of George Freed.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Shepard, of North Main street, announce the birth of a son.

Miss Barbara Yohe spent Sunday at her home at Clear Springs.

Mr. and Mrs. I. C. Bucher and sons spent Sunday at Arendtsville.

Mr. and Mrs. Arch Reed and son, Marlin, are spending part of the week at Carlisle.

Harry Routsong and wife and Misses Rose and Mary Routsong were among those who enjoyed the excursion to Willow Grove on Saturday.

E. W. Sowers has a sunflower stalk which has 295 sunflowers on it at this writing.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bush and daughter, of Sparrow Point, are visiting relatives here.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bausman are spending the week in Philadelphia.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Weaver will entertain the Ladies' and Men's Bible Classes, Thursday evening.

The Sewing Circle will meet with Mrs. F. W. Wright Thursday afternoon.

ARENDTSVILLE

Arendtsville—Rev. T. C. Hesson will hold Holy Communion service in the Reformed church next Sunday at 10 a. m.

The grapes are an abundant crop, the best for many years. The bunches are large and perfect.

Mrs. Leroy Fahenicht, of Kershaw, S. C., was a recent visitor in the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Culp.

Messrs. Samuel and George Taylor, of Millerstown, are here on their annual visit among their many friends and relatives.

Harry E. Lower spent last week in Pittsburgh.

Messrs. Noah R. Beamer, Charles Eicholtz, George Knipper and Charles Hartman spent several days in Ledgewood, N. J., last week. They made the trip by automobile.

Mrs. Christina Beecher, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Beecher and children, Emory and Catharine, and Olley Beecher, Mr. and Mrs. Jeremiah Long, of Altoona, were visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Smelser. They came in an automobile. Mrs. Christina Beecher is a sister of Mrs. Harry Smelser. Mrs. Beecher and Mrs. Smelser are the only two of a family of twelve children that are living.

FAYETTEVILLE ROUTE 2

Fayetteville Route 2—O. B. Lightner, from Mt. Hope, made a business trip to this place on Thursday.

The schools of Hamilton township all opened on August 30 with a good attendance.

The Cold Springs school has 39 on the list and Orrtanna school has quite a large number.

George and William Staley, of Waynesboro, visited their grandmother, Mrs. Augustus Baker several days last week.

Messrs. Sherman Sites and brother, of Fairfield, visited Mr. Edward Trace one day last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Pear and daughter, Ethel, of Chambersburg, visited Mr. and Mrs. Emory B. Kauffman over Sunday.

Honesty Is Rare.

To be honest as the world goes is to be one man picked out of ten thousand.—Shakespeare: "Hamlet."

GRAPES for sale. John N. Sachs, Steinwehr avenue.—advertisement

Some Queer Ones

Carrie Nation's hatchet and portrait are to adorn Kansas hall of fame.

Albino frog, yellowish with pink eyes is in a New York zoo. The only normal thing about him is his croak.

Westly, Wis., where no one is supposed to be able to buy, beg or steal a drink, has fifteen men on its drum list.

Former newspaper reporter, the Rev. Dr. Charles Fiske, is now coadjutor bishop of central New York in the Episcopal church.

Family wash rag, according to the United States public health service, is a more prolific distributor of germs than the common towel.

Connecticut man trying to decide whether to accept $15 weekly allowed under compensation law for stiff finger or have it cut off and get $35 a week.

Race from Indianapolis to Terre Haute between a motorcar, St. Louis limited train and a carrier pigeon was won by the motorcar, with the pigeon third.

For guests children whose great-grandparents were her playmates, Miss Betsy Capron celebrated her one hundred and eighth birthday at Mansfield, Conn.

CALLS SECRETARY DANIELS' REPLY AN ADMIRABLE ONE

He Points Out Improvements Made in Navy During His Term of Office.

"The tone and temper of Secretary Daniels' letter to Senator Lodge deserve the emulation of all the super-heated patriots on both sides of the naval issue," says the New York World.

"Courteously correcting a misstatement by the Massachusetts senator, the secretary calls his attention to the fact that during two years of the Wilson administration five Dreadnoughts were authorized as against two during the last two years of the Taft administration. The Sixty-third congress authorized twenty-six submarines against twelve by the Sixty-second congress. The number of enlisted men was increased 160 during the Taft administration. It has already been increased 5,224 under the Wilson administration.

"Then the secretary adds: 'The navy will not be strengthened for me to charge your party for neglecting the navy from 1897 to 1913, or for you to seek to lay all the blame for what the navy lacks to my party because in two years it has not created as powerful a navy as we both favor. Our appeal should rather be made to the American people of all parties to favor a strong and well-proportioned navy, equal to any emergency.'

"Mr. Daniels' attitude is the attitude of the nation. There has been too much cheap partisanship in this controversy over the national defense—too much desire to make party capital and too much indifference to the real welfare of the country. Secretary Daniels points out the way in which an adequate navy can be most easily and quickly obtained."

"The navy will not be strengthened for me to charge your party for neglecting the navy from 1897 to 1913, or for you to seek to lay all the blame for what the navy lacks to my party because in two years it has not created as powerful a navy as we both favor. Our appeal should rather be made to the American people of all parties to favor a strong and well-proportioned navy, equal to any emergency."

"Mr. Daniels' attitude is the attitude of the nation. There has been too much cheap partisanship in this controversy over the national defense—too much desire to make party capital and too much indifference to the real welfare of the country. Secretary Daniels points out the way in which an adequate navy can be most easily and quickly obtained."

"The navy will not be strengthened for me to charge your party for neglecting the navy from 1897 to 1913, or for you to seek to lay all the blame for what the navy lacks to my party because in two years it has not created as powerful a navy as we both favor. Our appeal should rather be made to the American people of all parties to favor a strong and well-proportioned navy, equal to any emergency."

"Mr. Daniels' attitude is the attitude of the nation. There has been too much cheap partisanship in this controversy over the national defense—too much desire to make party capital and too much indifference to the real welfare of the country. Secretary Daniels points out the way in which an adequate navy can be most easily and quickly obtained."

"The navy will not be strengthened for me to charge your party for neglecting the navy from 1897 to 1913, or for you to seek to lay all the blame for what the navy lacks to my party because in two years it has not created as powerful a navy as we both favor. Our appeal should rather be made to the American people of all parties to favor a strong and well-proportioned navy, equal to any emergency."

"Mr. Daniels' attitude is the attitude of the nation. There has been too much cheap partisanship in this controversy over the national defense—too much desire to make party capital and too much indifference to the real welfare of the country. Secretary Daniels points out the way in which an adequate navy can be most easily and quickly obtained."

"The navy will not be strengthened for me to charge your party for neglecting the navy from 1897 to 1913, or for you to seek to lay all the blame for what the navy lacks to my party because in two years it has not created as powerful a navy as we both favor. Our appeal should rather be made to the American people of all parties to favor a strong and well-proportioned navy, equal to any emergency."

"Mr. Daniels' attitude is the attitude of the nation. There has been too much cheap partisanship in this controversy over the national defense—too much desire to make party capital and too much indifference to the real welfare of the country. Secretary Daniels points out the way in which an adequate navy can be most easily and quickly obtained."

"The navy will not be strengthened for me to charge your party for neglecting the navy from 1897 to 1913, or for you to seek to lay all the blame for what the navy lacks to my party because in two years it has not created as powerful a navy as we both favor. Our appeal should rather be made to the American people of all parties to favor a strong and well-proportioned navy, equal to any emergency."

"Mr. Daniels' attitude is the attitude of the nation. There has been too much cheap partisanship in this controversy over the national defense—too much desire to make party capital and too much indifference to the real welfare of the country. Secretary Daniels points out the way in which an adequate navy can be most easily and quickly obtained."

"The navy will not be strengthened for me to charge your party for neglecting the navy from 1897 to 1913, or for you to seek to lay all the blame for what the navy lacks to my party because in two years it has not created as powerful a navy as we both favor. Our appeal should rather be made to the American people of all parties to favor a strong and well-proportioned navy, equal to any emergency."

"Mr. Daniels' attitude is the attitude of the nation. There has been too much cheap partisanship in this controversy over the national defense—too much desire to make party capital and too much indifference to the real welfare of the country. Secretary Daniels points out the way in which an adequate navy can be most easily and quickly obtained."

"The navy will not be strengthened for me to charge your party for neglecting the navy from 1897 to 1913, or for you to seek to lay all the blame for what the navy lacks to my party because in two years it has not created as powerful a navy as we both favor. Our appeal should rather be made to the American people of all parties to favor a strong and well-proportioned navy, equal to any emergency."

"Mr. Daniels' attitude is the attitude of the nation. There has been too much cheap partisanship in this controversy over the national defense—too much desire to make party capital and too much indifference to the real welfare of the country. Secretary Daniels points out the way in which an adequate navy can be most easily and quickly obtained."

"The navy will not be strengthened for me to charge your party for neglecting the navy from 1897 to 1913, or for you to seek to lay all the blame for what the navy lacks to my party because in two years it has not created as powerful a navy as we both favor. Our appeal should rather be made to the American people of all parties to favor a strong and well-proportioned navy, equal to any emergency."

"Mr. Daniels' attitude is the attitude of the nation. There has been too much cheap partisanship in this controversy over the national defense—too much desire to make party capital and too much indifference to the real welfare of the country. Secretary Daniels points out the way in which an adequate navy can be most easily and quickly obtained."

"The navy will not be strengthened for me to charge your party for neglecting the navy from 1897 to 1913, or for you to seek to lay all the blame for what the navy lacks to my party because in two years it has not created as powerful a navy as we both favor. Our appeal should rather be made to the American people of all parties to favor a strong and well-proportioned navy, equal to any emergency."

"Mr. Daniels' attitude is the attitude of the nation. There has been too much cheap partisanship in this controversy over the national defense—too much desire to make party capital and too much indifference to the real welfare of the country. Secretary Daniels points out the way in which an adequate navy can be most easily and quickly obtained."

"The navy will not be strengthened for me to charge your party for neglecting the navy from 1897 to 1913, or for you to seek to lay all the blame for what the navy lacks to my party because in two years it has not created as powerful a navy as we both favor. Our appeal should rather be made to the American people of all parties to favor a strong and well-proportioned navy, equal to any emergency."

"Mr. Daniels' attitude is the attitude of the nation. There has been too much cheap partisanship in this controversy over the national defense—too much desire to make party capital and too much indifference to the real welfare of the country. Secretary Daniels points out the way in which an adequate navy can be most easily and quickly obtained."

"The navy will not be strengthened for me to charge your party for neglecting the navy from 1897 to 1913, or for you to seek to lay all the blame for what the navy lacks to my party because in two years it has not created as powerful a navy as we both favor. Our appeal should rather be made to the American people of all parties to favor a strong and well-proportioned navy, equal to any emergency."

"Mr. Daniels' attitude is the attitude of the nation. There has been too much cheap partisanship in this controversy over the national defense—too much desire to make party capital and too much indifference to the real welfare of the country. Secretary Daniels points out the way in which an adequate navy can be most easily and quickly obtained."

"The navy will not be strengthened for me to charge your party for neglecting the navy from 1897 to 1913, or for you to seek to lay all the blame for what the navy lacks to my party because in two years it has not created as powerful a navy as we both favor. Our appeal should rather be made to the American people of all parties to favor a strong and well-proportioned navy, equal to any emergency."

"Mr. Daniels' attitude is the attitude of the nation. There has been too much cheap partisanship in this controversy over the national defense—too much desire to make party capital and too much indifference to the real welfare of the country. Secretary Daniels points out the way in which an adequate navy can be most easily and quickly obtained."

"The navy will not be strengthened for me to charge your party for neglecting the navy from 1897 to 1913, or for you to seek to lay all the blame for what the navy lacks to my party because in two years it has not created as powerful a navy as we both favor. Our appeal should rather be made to the American people of all parties to favor a strong and well-proportioned navy, equal to any emergency."

"Mr. Daniels' attitude is the attitude of the nation. There has been too much cheap partisanship in this controversy over the national defense—too much desire to make party capital and too much indifference to the real welfare of the country. Secretary Daniels points out the way in which an adequate navy can be most easily and quickly obtained."

"The navy will not be strengthened for me to charge your party for neglecting the navy from 1897 to 1913, or for you to seek to lay all the blame for what the navy lacks to my party because in two years it has not created as powerful a navy as we both favor. Our appeal should rather be made to the American people of all parties to favor a strong and well-proportioned navy, equal to any emergency."

"Mr. Daniels' attitude is the attitude of the nation. There has been too much cheap partisanship in this controversy over the national defense—too much desire to make party capital and too much indifference to the real welfare of the country. Secretary Daniels points out the way in which an adequate navy can be most easily and quickly obtained."

A TRIPLE SCARE

By SADIE OLCOTT

Mrs. Carpenter returned from shopping and rang the bell of her dwelling. The maid who admitted her looked at her, surprised.

"What's the matter, Ellen?" asked the mistress.

"La' sakes, mum! I thought you'd come in and was upstairs."

Mrs. Carpenter thought nothing of this. The maid went back to the kitchen, and the lady went up to her room. Standing before a dresser was herself!

Mrs. Carpenter put her hand to her forehead, then rested it on the doorpost for support. Her double was arranging her toilet, looking at herself in a mirror. On hearing some one at the door she turned her face and, seeing Mrs. Carpenter, exclaimed:

"My gracious!"

"Who-o-o are you?" asked Mrs. Carpenter, gasping.

"Who are you?" was the reply.

"I'm Margaret Carpenter."

"So am I."

There was an interval of silence, during which each woman regarded the other with obvious terror. The woman before the glass showed signs of fainting.

"Oh, my heavens!" she cried. "Have I lost my mind?"

"Do go away!" begged Mrs. Carpenter.

"Go away yourself. What do you mean by coming into my house, as though you were I? Oh, my! Can it be that?"

She looked again at Mrs. Carpenter, then buried her face in her hands. The latter staggered to the head of the stairs, held tight to the banister, descended and tottered into the kitchen.

"Ellen!" she moaned.

"What is it, mum?" asked the girl, frightened at her mistress' appearance.

"Who is it upstairs?"

"I don't know, mum. You came in ten minutes ago and went to your room, and now you have come in again."

"Then there really is some one there. I'm not gone daft."

"I don't know, mum. I'll go and see."

"Do," moaned the mistress.

Ellen ran upstairs and was back again in a couple of minutes looking much troubled. She was very pale.

"I knew it," cried Mrs. Carpenter. "I've received a stroke. Oh, Ellen! And she felt back into a chair."

There was a sound of a latchkey, in the front door, and Mr. Carpenter walked in. He saw the swish of a skirt on the landing above. His wife had fainted in the kitchen, and the maid was trying to keep her from falling to the floor. Mr. Carpenter went upstairs to his wife's room and saw her standing before the dresser. He was surprised to see the blinds closed.

"Why, my dear, he exclaimed, 'why shut out the light?'

"I'm afraid I've had something break in my brain."

"Break in your brain? What do you mean?"

"I've seen myself."

"In the mirror, of course."

"No, standing in the doorway, where you are now. It's gone."

"Vanished?"

"No, it went downstairs."

"Calm yourself. Some one who resembles you was here."

He approached her, but she drew away. "Go downstairs," she said, "and see if I am there." He stood irresolute for a moment, and she gave him an appealing look. "Steady, my dear!" She said to the louse. "I'll be back in a moment. You have mistaken some one or yourself."

He ran down the stairs, passed into the living room, then the dining room, and, passing a swinging door, stood in the kitchen. There on a chair, pale as a sheet, supported by the maid, was his wife. She gave him an appealing glance.

"Oh, Henry," she cried, "I'm afraid something awful has happened to me!"

"Great Scott," cried the man, "I'm afraid something awful has happened to me!"

"Has she gone?"

"Are you Margaret or is the woman upstairs Margaret?"

"Then there is really some one there?"

"A woman who looks exactly like you, only the blinds are closed and I couldn't see distinctly."

An explanation occurred simultaneously to both Mr. and Mrs. Carpenter. Mrs. Carpenter righted herself. The front door was heard to close. Mr. Carpenter ran into the hall and opened the door just in time to see the swish of a skirt around the corner. He stood thinking, then ran upstairs into his wife's room and opened a tin box in which his wife kept her jewels. It was empty. Going to the landing, he called:

"Margaret, come up here."

Mrs. Carpenter, considering the fright she had been under, went upstairs and into her room with remarkable rapidity. There stood her husband with her empty jewel box in his hands.

"You've been fooled," he said.

"How—where—what?"

"Some woman resembling you has scared you out of your wits and taken your jewels."

"The horrid thing!"

The police were put on the case and the woman was arrested, but the jewels were not recovered. The thief had seen Mrs. Carpenter and, struck with the likeness to herself, had resolved to play a game for some plunder. And she played it well.

Yellowstone Vernacular.

Stage drivers in Yellowstone park are "savages," dining-room help "heavies," horse herders "wranglers," all tourists "dudes," and soldiers "swaddies."

The YAQUI and HIS LAND

IN THE YAQUI VALLEY

MORE deadly than the deadliest Mauser and as swift as a German Zeppelin are the poisoned arrows of the Yaqui Indians, against whom the Mexicans have waged relentless war for more than a century, says the Boston Transcript.

Yaqui bows are made of black palm wood, which is extraordinarily hard; the arrows are long and sharp and so poisoned as to cause certain death in from three to seven days, but only after the most horrible torture, during which the patient raves, eats and gnaws his own flesh, beats his head against the wall or ground and so dies.

No antidote for the poison has ever been discovered. According to an old Spanish record, early settlers in Mexico tried by promises and threats to persuade the Indians to give them a recipe for it, but could not prevail until they had wounded a Yaqui they had taken, and then gave him liberty to go abroad to seek his remedy. They observed that he gathered two herbs, which he stamped and pounded severely, drank the juice of one, and injected the other into his wound; but first he opened the wound and drew out the barbs of the arrow, which, infinitesimally fine and thin, are left in the flesh after the shaft is taken out; for unless the wound be first cleared thereof, the herb can have no effect. In this manner the Indian cured himself, but the novice has had only varying results, as none but the Indian knows the art of clearing the wound. "They cumber the earth," said Lord Amherst on a certain memorable occasion of our own truculent Senecas. "They cumber the earth," said his excellency, President Diaz, when speaking of the Yaquis. So the unwritten edict went forth that the Yaquis should be exterminated, after they proved refractory to all softening influences of civilization.

Don't Like Americans. Being unable to either civilize or exterminate them after nearly a century of endeavor, Mexico graciously sold to Americans almost exclusively mining and other concessions within the disputed territory, a fact which probably accounts for the Yaquis' sudden "change of heart" towards Americans. Indeed, until within the past fifteen years, a visit to the Yaquis was considered an interesting and by no means hazardous excursion by the younger men of our navy while cruising or surveying in the Gulf of California. The Yaquis would always receive their visitors with perfect Indian hospitality, regale them with the best they had and show them excellent shooting.

The only descriptions we have of the coast villages of the coast tribes, situated as they are amid swamps and lagoons which render them well-nigh inaccessible, are due to the accounts which the jolly sailor boys have left of their outings on shore. Curiously enough also, the armistices which have been concluded and the attempts to make peace between the Mexican government and the Yaquis have nearly always been initiated and carried on by American adventurers and prospectors across the border, the Yaquis refusing consistently to admit Mexicans within their villages, even when they came suing for peace and bringing presents.

The strongholds of the Yaqui valley and the fastnesses of the Sierra which they are defending with such stubborn valor as to command the admiration of the Mexican officers who have had to fight them are full of copper mines.

Sage Reflection. "Ef ev'body got all he thought was comin' to 'im," said Uncle Eben "ev'body'd be de boss an' dar wouldn't be no one le' to do reg'lar work."

Health a Blessing. Health is the second blessing that we mortals are capable of—a blessing that money cannot buy.—Isaac Walton.

A PEEP INTO SPACE

Can the Finite Mind of Man Measure the Universe?

THE LIMITS OF THE VISIBLE.

Science Says the Bounds of the Stellar System Are Definable and That the Universe Is as an Island of Stars in an Infinite Ocean of Ether.

To the visible universe there are attainable limits. It may be that the greatest telescopes have not yet reached the bottom, or the boundaries, of the entire system, but they have almost done so.

This is shown by the thinning out of the fainter stars. These stars, as a whole, are the most distant, and if they were unlimited numerically every increase in the penetrating power of telescopes would bring previously unseen ones into view, in proportionately undiminished numbers.

As a fact, however, there is a rapid falling off in the proportionate numbers at great distances. This is shown by Kapteyn's "law of star density." Taking the "parsec" as the unit of measurement (a parsec is equal to nineteen million million miles), the density of the stars at increasing distances comes out as follows: At 0 distance, 1.00; at 50 parsecs, 0.90; at 135 parsecs, 0.86; at 213 parsecs, 0.67; at 540 parsecs, 0.30; at 850 parsecs, 0.15.

This does not mean that the absolute number of stars decreases with increase of distance, but that the ratio of their number to the volume of space occupied decreases in the proportion shown, so that at a distance of 850 parsecs there are only 15 per cent as many stars as there should be if there had been no falling off in relative density.

Various counts and estimates of the actual numbers included within various limiting distances have been made, and these show that the total number of stars in the visible universe is numerable and probably does not exceed a thousand millions at an outside estimate.

The fact that a fairly definite shape or outline has been found for the visible universe is in itself a proof that it is not unlimited in extent. We are virtually certain that it expands around us in such a manner as to assume roughly the form of a flat, irregular disk, the more distant parts or edges of which lie in the plane of the Milky way. It is thus like a floating island of stars in the ocean of space.

Space itself may be infinite, although what we call the universe is not. As to other universes existing beyond the limits of ours and invisible to us, that is purely a speculation, which appears more or less probable according to the manner in which one's mind approaches it.

But, at any rate, there is no positive evidence of the existence of such outer star systems. From time to time one hears suggestions that this or that nebula is an "outside universe," dimly shining to us from its millions of crowded stars across immeasurable tracts of intervening space. But it is far more probable that no nebula or other object visible in the night sky is unconnected with the universe to which we owe our own earth's being.

As to the continuance of the Creator's work in forming new suns and new planets, of that there can be no question. This work is, in truth, visibly going on before us in the heavens. There is the utmost variety of ages among the stars, just as there is among the human beings in a crowd. If our lives were lengthened so that a year would be but as a second to us we should see the stars around us disappearing and new ones springing into existence, as we see flowers fading and fresh ones blooming in the garden.

To return for a moment to the question of the infinitude of space, it is well known that the human mind cannot conceive a limit to space, for the instant you attempt to fix or imagine such a limit your imagination flies beyond it. You have got to think of an outside as well as of an inside.

And if you fly to another imagined

PENROD

Copyright, 1914, by Doubleday, Page & Company

CHAPTER III.

The Pageant of the Table Round.

"PENROD!" Mrs. Lora Rewbush stood in the doorway, indignantly gazing upon a child Sir Lancelot mounted to the heels. "Do you know that you have kept an audience of 500 people waiting for ten minutes?" She also detained the 500 while she spoke further.

"Well," said Penrod contentedly, as he followed her toward the buzzing stage, "I was just sitting there thinking."

Two minutes later the curtain rose on a medieval castle hall in its place in the new stage craft made in Germany and consisting of pink and blue chequerboard. The Child King Arthur and the Child Queen Guinevere were disclosed upon thrones, with the Child Elaine and many other celebrities in attendance, while about fifteen Child Knights were seated at a dining room table round, which was covered with a large oriental rug, and displayed (for the knights' refreshment) a banquet service of silver loving cups and trophies, borrowed from the Country Club and some local automobile manufacturers.

In addition to this splendor, potted plants and palms have seldom been more lavishly used in any castle on the stage or off. The footlights were added by a "spot-light" from the rear of the hall, and the children were revealed in a blaze of glory.

A hushed, multitudinous "O-o-o" of admiration, came from the decorous

"Do you know that you have kept an audience of 500 people waiting for ten minutes?"

and delighted audience. Then the children sang feebly:

"Children of the Table Round, Lit-tle knights and ladies we,
Let our voices all resound
Faith and hope and charity!"

The Child King Arthur rose, extended his scepter with the decisive gesture of a semaphore and spoke:

"Each little knight and lady born
Has noble deeds to perform
In this child-world of shivalerie,
No matter how small his share may be.
Let each advance and tell in turn
What claim has each to knightly earn."

The Child Sir Mordred, the villain of this piece, rose in his place at the Table Round and piped the only lines ever written by Mrs. Lora Rewbush which Penrod Schofield could have profane-ed without laughing. George Bossett, a really angelic boy, had been selected for the role of Mordred. His perfect conduct had earned for him the sardonic sobriquet "The Little Gentle man" among his boy acquaintances. (Naturally he had no friends.) Hence the other boys supposed that he had been selected for the wicked Mordred as a reward of virtue. He declaimed serenely:

"I light Sir Mordred the child, and I teach Lessons of evil and mischief, upkink,
Out into darkness, I thoughtless, upkink,
And ruthless to Mordred and unkind."

The Child Mordred was properly rebuked and denied the accolade, though, like the others, he seemed to have assumed the title already. He made a plotter's exit, whereupon Maurice Levy rose, bowed, announced that he light-ed the Child Sir Galahad and continued with perfect sang froid:

"I am the parent of the pure,
I have but kind thoughts each day,
I give my robes to the poor
And follow in the Master's way."
This elicited a series of approval from the Child King Arthur, and he bade Maurice "stand forth" and come near the throne, a command obeyed with the easy grace of conscious merit.

It was Penrod's turn. He stepped back from his chair, the table between him and the audience, and began in a high, breathless monotone:

"I light Sir Lancelot du Lake, the Child, Gentle-hearted, meek and mild,
What though I'm but a little child,
Gentle-hearted, meek and mild,
I do my share, though, but—though but!"

Penrod paused and gulped. The voice of Mrs. Lora Rewbush was heard from the wings, prompting irritably, and the Child Sir Lancelot repeated:

"I do my share, though, but—though but, a tot.
I pray you knight Sir Lancelot!"

This also met the royal favor, and Penrod was bidden to join Sir Galahad at the throne. As he crossed the stage Mrs. Schofield whispered to Margaret:

"That boy! He's unspinned his mantle and fixed it to cover his whole costume. After we worked so hard to make it becoming!"

"Never mind. He'll have to take the cape off in a minute," returned Margaret. She leaned forward suddenly, narrowing her eyes to see the better.

"What is that thing hanging about his left ankle?" she whispered uneasily. "How queer! He must have got tangled in something."

"Where?" asked Mrs. Schofield in alarm.

"His left foot. It makes him stumble. Don't you see? It looks—it looks like an elephant's foot!"

The Child Sir Lancelot and the Child Sir Galahad clasped hands before their child king. Penrod was conscious of a great uplift in a moment he would have to throw aside his mantle, but even so he was protected and sheltered in the human garment of a man. His stage fright had passed, for the audience was but an indistinguishable blur of darkness beyond the dazzling lights. His most repulsive speech (that in which he proclaimed himself a "tot") was over and done with, and now at last the small, moist hand of the Child Sir Galahad lay within his own. Craftily his brown fingers stole from Maurice's palm to the wrist. The two boys declaimed in concert:

"We are two children of the Table Round
Strewing kindness all around,
With love and good deeds striving ever
For the best."

May our little efforts e'er be blest,
Two little hearts we see. See,
United in love, faith, hope and char—Ow!"

The conclusion of the duet was marred. The Child Sir Galahad suddenly stiffened and, uttering an irrepressible shriek of anguish, gave a brief exhibition of the contortionist's art. ("He's twisted my wrist! Darn you, leggo!")

The voice of Mrs. Lora Rewbush was again heard from the wings. It sounded bloodthirsty. Penrod released his victim, and the Child King Arthur, somewhat disconcerted, extended his scepter and, with the assistance of the enraged prompter, said:

"Sweet child friends of the Table Round,
In brotherly love and kindness abound,
Sir Lancelot, you have spoken well,
Sir Galahad, too, as clear as bell.
So now pray drop your mantles gay,
You shall be knighted this very day."

And Penrod doffed his mantle.

Simultaneously a thick and vasty gasp came from the audience, as from 500 bathers in a wholly unexpected surf. This gasp was punctuated irregularly over the auditorium by imperfectly subdued screams both of dismay and incredulous joy and by two dismal shrieks. Altogether it was an extraordinary sound, a sound never to be forgotten by any one who heard it. It was almost as unforgettable as the sight which caused it, the word "sight" being here used in its vernacular sense, for Penrod, standing unmantled and revealed in all the medieval and artistic glory of the janitor's blue overalls, falls within its meaning.

The janitor was a heavy man, and his overalls upon Penrod were merely oceanic. The boy was at once swamped and lost within their blue gulfs and vast sagging, and the left leg, too hastily rolled up, had descended with a distinctively elephantine effect, as Margaret had observed. Certainly the Child Sir Lancelot was at least a sight.

It is probable that a great many in that hall must have had even then a consciousness that they were looking on at history in the making. A supreme act is recognizable at sight; it bears the birthmark of immortality. But Penrod, that marvelous boy, had begun to declaim, even with the gesture of flinging off his mantle for the accolade:

"I first, the Child Sir Lancelot du Lake,
Will volunteer to knighthood take,
And kneeling here before your throne
I vow to—"

He finished his speech unheard. The audience had recovered breath, but had lost self-control, and there ensued something later described by a caricature point as a sort of cultured riot.

The actors in the "pageant" were not so dumfounded by Penrod's costume as might have been expected. A few precocious geniuses perceived that the overalls were the Child Lancelot's own comment on maternal intentions, and these were profoundly impressed. They regarded him with the grisly admiration of young and ambitious criminals for a jail mate about to be distinguished by hanging. But most of the children simply took it to be the case (a little strange, but startling) that Penrod's mother had dressed him like that—which is pathetic. They tried to go on with the "pageant."

"They made a brief, manful effort. But the irrepressible outbursts from the audience bewildered them. Every time Sir Lancelot du Lake the Child opened his mouth the great, shadowy house fell into an uproar and the children into confusion. Strong women and brave girls in the audience went out into the lobby, shrieking and clinging to one another. Others remained, rocking in their seats, helpless and spent. The neighborhood of Mrs. Schofield and Margaret became tactfully a desert. Friends of the author went behind the scenes and encountered a hitherto unknown phase of Mrs. Lora Rewbush. They said afterward that she hardly seemed to know what she was doing. She begged to be left alone somewhere with Penrod Schofield, for just a little while.

They led her away.

(Continued To-Morrow)

MAKE FOR BETTER DAIRYING

Test Product of Each Cow—Keep Posted and in Touch With Modern Ways of Managing Herd.

(By GEORGE C. HUMPHREYS, Wisconsin Experiment Station.)

1. Treat cows gently and avoid excitement.
2. Be regular in time of milking.
3. Keep stables clean, well lighted and ventilated.
4. Weigh the milk of each cow at milking time.
5. Get your neighbor to share with you.

An Excellent Milker.

you in owning a Babcock milk tester, and test the product of each cow.

6. Discard the animals which have failed at the end of the year to pay for their keep.

7. Breed your cows to a pure-bred registered dairy bull from a family having large and profitable production of butterfat.

8. Raise well the heifer calves from cows which for one or more generations have made large and profitable productions of butterfat.

9. Breed heifers to drop their first calves at twenty-four to thirty months of age. Give cows six to eight weeks rest between lactation periods.

10. Join a dairy cattle breeders' association. It will help you keep posted and in touch with the best and most modern ways of managing your dairy herd.

Cultivate Garden Crops.

It pays to cultivate garden crops as long as one can get between the rows.

GOOD MATERIAL FOR GROWTH

Alfalfa, Either in Green State or as Hay, Is One of the Best Feeds for the Young Pigs.

The pig which does not grow, but merely gets fat, is likely to die of "thumps." Corn makes fat. The small grains are richer in the things that make the bone and muscle needed if the pig is to grow. Two parts of shorts to one of corn is a growth ration rather than a fat ration.

Skin milk furnishes a good material for growth if fed with a little corn. When the shoats reach the weights of about 75 pounds, the feed may be made of one part of tankage to ten parts of corn, or one of the small grains. Small grains should be ground or crushed.

Alfalfa, either in the green state or as hay, is one of the best of feeds for the young pig. It feeds the bones and muscles, but should have corn to render it complete. These ideas have been found correct by the Nebraska station. Those who have not the alfalfa may grow rape as a growth crop. It is equal to alfalfa in materials for bone and muscle.

Desirable Farm For Sale

The undersigned will sell at Public Sale on Saturday afternoon, September 18th, at 2 o'clock, at his residence in Mt. Joy Township, along the Baltimore Pike, his valuable farm of 142 acres more or less, of which 25 acres is in excellent timber.

The farm is improved with all necessary farm buildings and has an excellent supply of water at house and barn. It is convenient to market. Chopping Mill, School, Church, Store and Blacksmith-shop and adjoining land with Samuel Schwartz, Charles Rudisill, Althea Store, Bu-hoon, Clayton Strickhouser and St. Mark's Reform Church property.

Persons wishing to view the property may do so between now and day of sale. Those desiring further information may call on along the Baltimore Pike.

M. C. BENNER

RUSSIAN TROOPS SEE REAL GHOST

Say General Skobelev Visits Battle Lines.

RIDES A WHITE CHARGER.

Vision of the Dead Muscovite Leader Recalls Other Stories of Apparitions Turning Defeat Into Victory—British and French Tell of Visitation That They Say Turned German Tide.

In a telegram from Petrograd it is stated that many Russian sentinels declare that they have seen the famous ghost of General Skobelev in a white uniform riding on a white horse. This appearance, according to tradition, always marks a critical moment for the armies of the czar and invariably causes panic in the enemy's ranks. The telegram has started a correspondence in some newspapers on war myths and the appearance of apparitions which alter the course of battles. "Supernatural appearances of this character," writes one correspondent, "have marked the narratives of almost all wars. Indeed, an army might begin to suspect the justice of its cause if it were not guaranteed by some apparition of this sort."

"Thus in classical history you have the appearance of Castor and Pollux at the battle of Lake Regillus, fighting on white horses. They won the battle for Rome and carried the news of it at incredible speed to the city."

Constantine's Flaming Cross.

"Another apparition is that of the flaming cross which appeared in the skies at noon above the army of Constantine I. at the battle of the Milvian Bridge, near Rome, 312. The cross bore the famous words, 'In this sign you will conquer,' and Constantine is said to have been so affected by the portent that he had the cross inscribed on the shields of his soldiers and became a Christian. His victory over his rival made him Roman emperor and confirmed him in the belief in the apparition."

"It has been supposed that with the advent of high explosives, wireless telegraphs and long range artillery these visions would be crowded out of the modern battlefield, but this is not so. There is the new famous story of the cross on the white horse at Moins, who is said to have caused the Germans to retire in the middle of their victorious career."

English See Their St. George.

"The English soldiers who saw this apparition say it was St. George, and the French soldiers have identified it as St. Michael, although some are inclined to believe it was Jean of Arc. The dean of Durham has protested against the circulation of this story, and a well known novelist claims to have invented it out of his own head last October. But it is too late for the dean or anybody else to protest that this apparition is not sufficiently authenticated. The public will have the apparition."

"Skobelev" used to wear in the Russo-Turkish war a white uniform and ride a white horse, so that his soldiers, who worshiped him, used to call him "the white general." It is not a method of generalship which would last many minutes on a modern battlefield, but it created in the soldiers the legend of Skobelev's invulnerability.

"Skobelev was an ardent partisan of the pan-Slavist agitation, and among his last writings before his mysterious death in 1914 were articles prophesying the war between the Teuton and the Slav."

The British Weekly in an article on "Angels and Demons" says that, though it has "no intention of discussing the credibility of stories relating to angelic interpositions in the present war," yet "that such interpositions may and do take place is a doctrine firmly rooted in revelation and in experience."

"Angels" Answer Mother's Prayer.

Dr. Horton in a glowing letter on the war's awakening of spiritual perceptions says he asked one of his young men on the front if he had seen the "white comrade," of which so much has been heard in the French lines.

"No," he said, "I have not seen him, but I believe in him. Nothing is impossible here, for the unseen becomes seen in times like this."

A "mother" writes of a soldier son for whose protection she prayed for an angel guard. He told her on returning from the lines at Ypres, "I both saw and felt the presence of angels, and any one who was with me was safe."

MISSOURI GROWS MUDHOLES.

Farmers Make Money Pulling Out Stalled Automobiles.

Colonel F. M. Buffum, Missouri state highway commissioner, has sent out a letter complaining of the practice of farmers of "cultivating" mudholes for the profit there is in pulling motor-cars out of the mire.

Colonel Buffum says he has received several complaints against farmers who purposely keep deep mudholes in their vicinity that they may charge motorists a fancy price for pulling them out.

He mentions the case of Mrs. James A. Hinchins of Jefferson "by, who was forced to pay a farmer $25 for pulling her car out of a hole in the road."

Growth of the Finger Nails.

Finger nails grow more quickly in summer than in winter. The middle finger grows the fastest and the thumb the most slowly.

YOU ARE CORDIALLY INVITED TO VIEW MY

Opening Display

Fall - Millinery

Friday - and - Saturday

September 10th and 11th.

NEW STORE MILLINERY

Baltimore Street

GRACE EICHOLTZ

Medical Advertising

LADIES! Darken

Your Gray Hair

Use Grandma's Sage Tea and Sulphur Recipe and No body will Know.

The use of Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded, gray hair to its natural color dates back to grandmother's time. She used it to keep her hair beautifully dark, glossy and abundant. Whenever her hair fell out or took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect.

But brewing at home is messy and out-of-date. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for a 50 cent bottle of "Wyneth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," you will get this famous old recipe which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair and is splendid for dandruff, dry, feverish, itchy scalp and falling hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, it becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and abundant.

NOTICE

Auto tops covered in Mohair or rubber goods, curtains and lights, new bows and sockets, cushions rebuilt and repaired, Slip covers for tops and seats, painting at reasonable prices.

BUPP BROTHERS

Carriage Works
124 N. Stratton St.

BARGAINS IN JARS

Half gal., Ball Mason, Jars 60 cents, Quarts, 50, Pints, 45.

Come quick to HAMMER'S STORE.

Get Patents in America. France is the best foreign patron of the United States patent office, with Great Britain following closely.

PUBLIC SALE

ON SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 11, 1915

The undersigned intending to quit farming will offer at public sale on his premises, 1 mile North of Wrensville, the following described personal property, viz: TWO HEAD OF HORSES 1 a dark bay mare 16 years old, good worker and fearless of all road objects. No. 2 light bay mare, good worker, 10 years old;

2 GOOD COWS, Brindle cow carrying her fourth calf, due in March, black cow has had her third calf, these are large cows and good butter makers, 2 calves 6 mos. old, both heifers, 5 SHOATS, will weigh from 40 to 80 pounds.

FARMING IMPLEMENTS 1 wagon, 24 in. tread in good order and 1 1/2 in. tread wagon, both 2 horse wagons, 1 new spring wagon, 1 old one, 2 buggies, 1 falling-top home-made runabout, Pennsylvania low down grain drill, good as new, Milwaukee mower, 5 ft. cut, in good running order, 2 cultivators, Oliver chilled plow, Syracuse spring harrow, spider plow HARNESSES, 2 sets front gears, 3 bridles, 1 collar, 2 sets single harness complete, riding bridle, flynets, 3 halters, dung and pitch forks, log, the butt brush and cow chains, 2 shovels, 2 digging irons, 2 ladders, one 24 the other 16 ft. long, set of hay carriages, 16 ft. long, lot of lumber, boards and plank, lot of poplar boards 3-4 in. thick, 12 ft. long, 6 in. wide, grain cradle, Lower make and a good one, 33 yrs. old and never was broken, scythe and snath, brush scythe, grind stone, Handy cutting box, No. 1 broad ax, foot adz, 2 cross-cut saws, 1 man cross-cut saw, 2 meat barrels.

HOUSEHOLD GOODS: Good Light House cook stove with tank, Sharples, separator in good order, corner cupboard, safe, side board, sink, 1-2 doz. plank bottom chairs, 2 rocking chairs, Morris chair, large looking glass, churn and buck, lot of canned fruit, potatoes by the bu., large chest, 2 bedsteads, three 5-gal. stone jars, conch, 35-gal. copper kettle and ring, 5-gal. brass kettle and ring, dishes, pots, pans, center table, library and desk combined, and other articles too numerous to mention.

Also at the same time the Property will be offered for sale, consisting of a LOT OF GROUND situated and described as follows:

CONTAINING THIRTY-FOUR ACRES

Adjoining lands of Wm. A. Smith on the South, Wm. L. Warren on the West, and on the North and East by State Forestry land, improved with a 2 STORY WEATHERBOARDED HOUSE, 22x24 ft., with large porch and wash house combined, bank barn 38x42 ft., horse pen 14x20, buggy house, good wood house, 2 never failing springs on the place, never known to be dry. One only 60 feet from the house.

Sale to begin at 1 o'clock, P. M., on said day, when terms and conditions will be made known by

WM. I. NOEL, Auctioneer.

PUBLIC SALE

ON FRIDAY, THE 10TH OF SEPTEMBER 1915.

The undersigned, John W. Hines, S. Wright, late of Bensenville, Borough, Adams County, Pa., will sell the following personal property:

One horse wagon, 1 Fayton buggy, 1 stick wagon, 1 potato plough, 1 garden plough, 2 horse blankets, 2 egg crates, 2 chicken coops, 1 chicken house, twenty feet long, 1 set of harness, 1 set of Yankee harness, 1 flynet, 1 halter, 1 buggy whip, 1 rubber spread, 1 cross cut saw, 1 pruning shears, chains, 2 copper kettles, one 20 gallons, one 5 gallons, 1 iron kettle, two 10 plate stoves, 1 Kerosine oil stove, three burners, in use one year, 1 motor washing machine as good as new, 1 chamber suit, 1 rocking chair, 1 plush rocker, 1 Morris chair, 1 stand, 1 six-foot dining table, 1 lounge, 1 mattress, 1 sausage grinder, some crocks, some jars, glass fruit jars.

A credit of 6 months on sums of five dollars and up will be given purchasers giving note with approved security.

Sale to commence at 1 o'clock.

SALLIE M. WRIGHT.

The Story of a Merchant Prince

(From the Chicago Hearststone.)

There was an old geezer and he had a lot of sense; He started up in business on a dollar-eighty cents. The dollar for stock and the eighty for an ad Brought him three lovely dollars in a day, by dad! Well, he bought more goods and a little more space And he played that system with a smile on his face. The customers flocked to his two-by-four And soon he had to hustle for a regular store Up on the square, where the people pass, He gobbled up a corner that was all plate glass. He fixed up the windows with the best that he had And he told 'em all about it in a half page ad. He soon had 'em coming and he never, never quit, And he wouldn't cut down on his ads one bit. Well, he's kept things humming in the town ever since And everybody calls him the Merchant Prince. Some say it's luck, but that's all bunk— Why, he was doing business when the times were punk. People have to purchase and the geezer was wise— For he knew the way to get 'em was to advertise.

HOPE PROBE WILL CLEAR GERMANY

U. S. Won't Question Good Faith on Pledge.

MUST BE CLEARLY PROVEN

Washington is Still Hopeful That Entire Submarine Issue with Berlin
Will be Cleared Up Satisfactorily.

Washington, Sept. 8.—President Wilson will take no action in the case of the Allan liner Hesperian, torpedoed off the Irish coast on Saturday night, for some time to come.

He had a brief conference with Secretary Lansing, at which the attack on the vessel was discussed.

The present position of the United States is to take no steps to question the good faith of Germany's recent assurances regarding submarine warfare unless it is shown clearly that the sinking of the Hesperian was in violation of them. This view was made clear by a high official, who explained that President Wilson and Secretary Lansing accepted the assurances of the German government at their face value and are reluctant to believe that the Hesperian was sunk deliberately without valid excuse. They will not believe the ship was sunk by a submarine until it is clearly shown and will wait for more evidence on whether she was warned or attempted to escape. The question of the gun on her deck will also be carefully considered.

It was said authoritatively that the American government is still hopeful that the entire submarine issue with Germany will be cleared up satisfactorily. No final conclusions on the attitude of the government will be announced until the Hesperian and Arabic cases have been cleared up and the note on the Lusitania, which has been prepared in Berlin, has been received here.

Evidence tending to show that the Hesperian was sunk by a submarine was submitted to the department in the form of an affidavit by the liner's officers, which was called over by the United States consul at Queenstown, Wesley Frost. Captain Main, her commander, and his first and second officers made the affidavit, in which they said that from the fragments of steel which fell on the deck it was "definitely" shown that the ship was struck by a torpedo.

They asserted that the torpedo struck the ship about eight feet below the water line and that the steel fragments were about the size of large quantities of water. They also declared that there was a strong odor of high explosives.

They admitted that the Hesperian had a "six-inch gun" on board, but said it had "been painted a service gray" and would not have been ob-servable even at short range and probably would not have been observed at all through the periscope of a submarine.

If the torpedoing of the vessel is established it is predicted that Germany will set up as a defense the allegation that the gun which she carried prevented any attempt at visitation and search as was promised by Ambassador von Bernstorff when he visited Mr. Lansing last week.

$200,000 FOR CHARITY

Wilkes-Barre Man Will be Admitted to Probate.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Sept. 8.—An estate valued at $200,000 is given to churches and charitable organizations by the will of Charles J. Shoemaker, deceased.

A bequest of $25,000 is made to the board of home missions of the Presbyterian church of the United States; and a bequest of $10,000 goes to the American Sunday School union of Philadelphia. Other gifts in the will are: Presbyterian church of Kingston, $5,000; Presbyterian church of Fortyfort, $5,000; Home for Friendless Children, of this city, $5,000;
Industrial Institute at Weiser, Idaho,
$5,000.

The balance of the estate, after a few bequests of household effects, is to be invested by a local bank.

Shoots Brother at Play.

Philadelphia, Sept. 8.—While playing with a loaded revolver in the kitchen of his home, Frederick Hook,
Jr., nine years old, of Williamsburg,
N. J., accidentally shot his four-year-old brother Harry in the chest. The injured boy was taken unconscious to the Cooper hospital, Camden, where he is in a serious condition.

Man and Bride Killed in Accident.

Congers, N. Y., Sept. 8.—George Winder and his bride of a few days were instantly killed and three men and a woman were seriously injured in an automobile accident near here.
The injured are Mrs. Louise Benson, of Haverstraw; James Brophy, of Haverstraw; Robert Brophy and William Curran, the chauffeur.

Call for Bank Reports.

Washington, Sept. 8.—The comptroller of the currency issued a call to all national banks requiring them to report to him their condition at the close of business on Thursday, September 2.

Snakes in United States.

In the United States there are found 111 distinct species of snakes, of which only 17 are dangerous to man.

BASE BALL SCORES

Following is the Result of Games Played Yesterday.

AMERICAN LEAGUE.

At Chicago—Detroit, 7; Chicago, 10.
Batteries—Dauss, Oldham, Stange;
Russell, Scott, Schalk.
At Philadelphia—Washington, 5;
Athletics, 6 (1st game). Batteries—
Gallia, Williams; Anker, Knowlson, McAvoy.
Washington, 7; Athletics, 4 (2d game). Batteries—Rice, Williams; Fillingim, Haas, Lapp.
At Boston—New York, 8; Boston,
3. Batteries—Mogridge, Kruger;
Shore, Collins, Cady, Carrigan.
At Cleveland—St. Louis, 4; Cleveland, 1. Batteries—Parks, Agnew; Mitchell, Egan.

Standing of the Clubs.

W. L. P. C.	W. L. P. C.
Boston.. 83 42 664 N. York. 59 65 476
Detroit.. 85 46 649 St. Louis 51 78 386
Chicago. 78 52 600 Cleveland 49 80 380
Washin. 68 59 535 Athletic 37 58 298

NATIONAL LEAGUE.

At Brooklyn—Philadelphia, 1;
Brooklyn, 7. Batteries—McQuillan, Tineup, Hieff, Burns; Douglas, Miller.
At New York—Boston, 7; New York, 2. Batteries—Ragon, Gowdy; Perritt, Mathewson, Doolin, Meyers.
At Pittsburgh—Cincinnati, 6; Pittsburgh, 3. Batteries—Loney, Wingo; Kautzner, Adams, Cooper, Hill, Gibson, Wagner.
At St. Louis—Chicago, 3; St. Louis,
1. Batteries—Vaughn, Bresnahan, Archer; Meadows, Robinson, Snyder.

Standing of the Clubs.

W. L. P. C.	W. L. P. C.
Phila. 69 56 532 Chicago. 51 65 454
Brooklyn. 70 59 543 N. York. 59 65 476
Boston.. 66 59 523 Pittsburg. 63 70 474
St. Louis 64 67 489 Cincinnati 58 69 457

FEDERAL LEAGUE.

At Kansas City—Pittsburgh, 3;
Kansas City, 2 (1st game). Batteries—
Knetzer, Barger, Berry; Cullio, Easterly.
Pittsburgh, 4; Kansas City, 2 (2d game). Batteries—Allen, Berry; Hen-ding, Brown.
At St. Louis—Chicago, 0; St. Louis,
3 (1st game). Batteries—Brennan,
Wilson; Davenport, Hartley.
Chicago, 3; St. Louis, 2 (2d game).
Batteries—Hendrix, Wilson; Watson,
Chapman.

Standing of the Clubs.

W. L. P. C.	W. L. P. C.
Pittsburg. 73 55 570 Kan. City 67 62 516
Newark. 67 58 536 Buffalo. 65 68 489
St. Louis 70 60 538 Brooklyn. 62 69 473
Chicago. 70 62 525 Baltimore 43 83 341

NEW ITALIAN ARMY SAILS FOR ORIENT

Expedition Fills 117 Transports, According to Report.

Basle, Sept. 8.—A dispatch from Munich says 117 Italian transports, convoys by sixteen warships having on board soldiers and munitions, have left Taranto for an unknown destination.

The duke of Aosta, commander-in-chief of the Italian navy, watched the departure of the flotilla and it was believed that the transports and warships were bound for the Dardanelles.
Advices state that the Italian expedition that recently left Taranto and other ports for the orient is expected to strike shortly at Smyrna, where a reign of terror exists.

A big expedition sailed some time ago from Italian ports presumably to co-operate with the allies at the Dardanelles or to effect a diversion by landing in Asia Minor. Nothing definite has since been revealed as to its destination or operations.

GENERAL MARKETS

PHILADELPHIA — FLOUR quiet; winter clear, $4.60@4.85; city mills,
fancy, $5.75@7.
RYE FLOUR quiet; per barrel, $5
@5.50.
WHEAT steady; No. 2 red, new,
$1.07@1.09.
CORN quiet; No. 2 yellow, 87@88c.
OATS quiet; No. 2 white, 60c.;
lower grades, 58c.

POULTRY: Live steady; hens, 17
@17c.; old roosters, 12@13c. Dressed steady; choice fowls, 19c.; old roosters, 13c.

BUTTER quiet; fancy creamery,
28c. per lb.
EGGS steady; selected, 30@32c.;
nearly, 28c.; western, 28c.

Live Stock Prices.

CHICAGO—HOGS higher; mixed and butchers, $6.50@8.05; good heavy, $6.75@7.80; rough heavy, $6.25@8.55;
light, $7.40@8.15; pigs, $6.20@8; bulk,
$6.45@7.60.

CATTLE steady; beefs, $6.25@
10.35; cows and heifers, $3.50@9.25;
Texas, $6.75@8.40; calves, $9.50@12.
SHEEP strong; native and western,
$5.50@6.35; lambs, $6.50@9.30.

Petrograd Police Chief Slain.

Athens, Sept. 8.—A dispatch from Petrograd says that the chief of police in the Russian capital has been assassinated.

DOINGS OF THE VAN LOONS

The KITCHEN CUPBOARD

A WELL BALANCED MENU.

THURSDAY—BREAKFAST.

Cantaloupe,
Eggs a la Suisse, Toast,
Coffee.

LUNCHEON.

Sweetbread Loaf, Tartar Sauce,
Potato Pancakes,
Orange Cream Sponge.

DINNER.

Cold Roast Lamb, Family Style,
With Curry Sauce,
German Fried Potatoes,
Fresh Cherry Pie a la Mode.

Eggs a la Suisse.

MATERIALS.—Four eggs, one cupful cream or rich milk, four pieces toast, salt, pepper, one-half cupful grated cheese, butter for spreading.

Utensils.—Frying pan, measuring cup, saucer, skimmer.

Directions.—Drop eggs in hot cream and poach; remove eggs and place each on a piece of buttered toast. Pour cream over all, sprinkle top with grated cheese and set in a hot oven long enough to melt the cheese, but not to overcook the eggs.

Sweetbread Loaf.

Materials.—One loaf stale bread, one set of sweetbreads, olive oil, one-half cupful; egg and crumbs for deep fat frying.

Utensils.—Shallow pan for sauteing bread, kettle for deep fat frying.

Directions.—Parboil sweetbreads as usual. Egg and crumb for deep fat frying, after cutting the sweetbreads in one and one-half inch cubes. Cut bread to make a case or basket by removing crust from the bread and cutting a slice from the top for a cover, cutting out center, leaving the sides one-half inch thick; brush over the cover and sides with butter and brown or saute in olive oil. Use uncooked macaroni sticks to hold the cover open.

Potato Pancakes.

Materials.—Five good sized potatoes,
two eggs, two teaspoonfuls salt.

Utensils.—Grater, bowl, beater, griddle, pancake turner.

Directions.—Grate potatoes into pan of cold water. Drain, pressing out all water. To pulp add beaten eggs and salt. Fry to a crisp brown on griddle like pancakes.

Anna Thompson!

Outclassed by a Long Shot.

Little Willy—Did you tell Mr. Blinks that the baby had cut his first tooth?
Big Hubby—It's useless. He has a heat which laid fourteen eggs in six days.—
Philadelphia Ledger.

An even disposition is the best pillow on the sea of life.

Warned.

May—Maud, dear, did you know that the last legislature passed a law punishing kidnapping very severely? Maud —No. But what of it? May—Well, if you aren't careful Cholly Softleigh's relatives may cause you trouble.—
Pittsburgh Press.

A Long Drink.

Extract from a sentimental letter:
"Last night I sat in a gondola on Venice's grand canal, drinking it all in,
and life never seemed so full before."— London Mail.

Easy & Practical Home Dress Making Lessons

Prepared Especially For This Newspaper
by Pictorial Review

ADAPTATION OF A PARIS COSTUME.

A charming frock of tan faille trimmed effectively with bands of beaver fur and a vest of novelty silk.

Soft pale tan shades and a new tan which has a hint of apricot in it to make it warmer are among the new colors shown in the frocks which Paris has sent over for Autumn, despite the troubled conditions there. The accompanying model is in tan faille trimmed with beaver and a vest of novelty silk.
The skirt is a three-piece model gathered at the top, falling in full folds at the bottom.

If the faille is 44 inches wide, 5 1/2 yards will be sufficient for the costume in medium size, with 4 1/2 yards for banding and 3/4 yard 36-inch silk for the trimming.

Being a three-piece model, the skirt is not difficult to make, and many home dressmakers prefer to finish this first so that it will be ready to be attached to the waist when the latter is ready.

The waists are joined as notched, leaving left side seam free above large "O"

perforation in front gore for placket.
Gather upper edge between double "TT" perforations. Adjust a straight or a bias band of material (about 4 inches wide when finished) to position on skirt as illustrated on reverse side of envelope, stitching upper edge of band about 8 inches above lower edge of skirt. Sew skirt to lower edge of waist over stay, center-fronts and backs even, side seam at under-arm seam. Stitch tape under gathers in skirt from center-front to the left side seam and finish for closing.

At this point the skirt will have to be put aside until the waist is ready.
First, turn under the front edge of the front of the waist on slot perforation and lap on vest to small "o" perforations, notches even; stitch 1/2 inch from folded edge.

Turn hem in vest on double "oo" perforations. Center-front indicated by large "O" perforations in vest. Close under-arm and shoulder seams as notched. Gather lower edge of waist between double "TT" perforations. Sew stay to lower edge of waist, center-backs even, small "o" perforation at under-arm seam and bring front edge to center-front. Face collar and sew to neck edge as notched.

Now, sew skirt to lower edge of waist over stay, center-front and backs even, side seam at under-arm seam. Stitch tape under gathers in skirt from center-front to the left side seam and finish for closing.

Returning to the waist, gather the sleeves between double "TT" perforations and close seam as notched, leaving extensions in long sleeve free.

Turn under extension on slot perforation, lap to small "o" perforations. Hem or face about the wrists and finish with a band of fur or other desired trimming, then sew sleeve into armhole as notched.

Beaver is one of the most fashionable furs because brown felts are to lead the fashion.

Pictorial Review Costume No. 6353. Sizes 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44 and 46 inches bust. Price, 15 cents.

But Father laughed a little too soon

G. W. WEAVER & SON*The Store That Sells WooltexCopyright 1915
by the Wooltex Tailors

At The Store That Sells Wooltex

Anxious to see new Styles?

SEE THIS WEEK'S ADVANCE DISPLAY OF

Wooltex Fashions

It is your first opportunity to get acquainted with the correct modes for autumn.

Style—Authoritative Style—as expressed by the leading fashion authorities of the world, is shown in the new Wooltex models.

These beautiful, smartly tailored garments will instantly meet the approval of every woman who desires to be well dressed and yet not over-dressed.

Short-lived fads, extremes and freaks, find no place in Wooltex garments.

yet Wooltex designs contain all the newest features of approved fashion.

To their style correctness is added Wooltex quality—pure wool materials and tailoring of the highest character. Wooltex garments are so carefully tailored, inside and out, that they retain their fresh, new appearance much longer than ordinary garments, made in the ordinary way.

Why pay more for ordinary clothes when you can buy Wooltex at such moderate prices?

Wooltex suits at $25.00 to $35.00

Wooltex coats at 15.00 to 30.00

Wooltex skirts at 5.00 to 10.00

Complete lines of other makes gaged by the Wooltex standard of tailoring.

Suits from $9.75 up

Coats " 5.00 up

Stock Cattle For Sale*FOR SALE AT McKNIGHTSTOWN
ONE LOAD OFLIGHT STOCK STEERS

Weigh from 600 to 700 lbs.

A good kind, thrifty with good order on them. Will have stockers and feeders on hand for sale all the time at prices as low as they can be bought in any market.

C. T. LOWER*Mules Mules

Sucklings and Two Year Olds at WABASH HOTEL STABLES.

On Friday, September 10th.

I am now in Kentucky selecting a lot of mules and will have a Carload of extra fine sucklings and two year olds at the Wabash stables in Gettysburg on Friday. If you are looking for good young Mules don't miss this opportunity.

H. A. MYERS.*LIVE STOCK*RAISING HORSES FOR PROFIT

Every Available Sound Mare Should Be Bred to Meet the Demand Caused by European War.

Ever since the first days of bicycles some have thought that the breeding of horses would become unprofitable. Meanwhile the horse has kept its place among domestic animals and we now have more than ever before. With the European war on us and so many horses being killed in battle the near future probably will see a greater demand for horses than at any time in the last century.

It is not advisable to breed a mare having serious defects, but every sound mare available should be bred to a stallion to produce stock to supply the coming demand. Don't think you are economizing to breed to some defective or disreputable stallion rather than pay a little higher price for the service of a good one.

Excellent Farm Type.

Two years ago a farmer who had two mares of equal value bred one to a low-grade horse, the other to a good one. The colts had the same treatment in every respect. At weaning time he refused $100 for the better colt and could not find a buyer at $50 for the other. This demonstrates the benefit of breeding from the best. It takes no more to raise a good animal than a scrub, and the selling price is generally twice as much or more, and a buyer is much easier found.

.. HEAR ..

Dr. Hudson's Lectures on The Horse

FREE ENTERTAINMENT

At Hunterstown

Thursday Evening, SEPT. 9
7 P. M.

At New Oxford

Friday Evening, SEPT. 10
7 P. M.

At Littlestown

Saturday Evening, SEPT. 11
7 P. M.

A Free Treat for the Farmers

GETTYSBURG MARKETS

Prices at the Gettysburg warehouse, corrected daily by C. Milton Wolf, Jr. Successor to J. Geo. Wolf's Sons Co.

	Per Bu.
Wheat	.93
Rye	.75
Ear Corn
New Oats

RETAIL PRICES

	Per 100
Coarse Spring Bran	$1.35
Hard Packed Bran	$1.40
Corn and Oats Chops	1.60
Shredded Stock Food	1.60
White Middlings	$1.85
Coarse Spring Bran	$1.85
Cotton Seed Meal	1.70
Red Middlings	$1.75
Baled Straw	.65
Timothy Hay	1.00
Plaster	$7.50 per ton
Cement	$1.40 per bbl.

	Per Bu.
Flour	$5.40
Western Flour	$8.00

	Per Bu.
Wheat	$1.10
Ear Corn	.95
Shelled Corn	.95
Old Oats	.65
New Oats	.45
Badger Dairy feed	1.30
New Oxford Dairy Feed	$1.40

Wholesale Produce

Eggs, Market steady	.17
Chicks	.11 1/2

Retail Produce

Butter	.30
Eggs	.20

FARMS FOR SALE

I will sell at private sale the J. Emory Bair farm in Butler township, consisting of 144 acres more or less, improved with two story frame house, large bank barn, and all necessary out-buildings. Good spring. Water at the house and water at the barn. Twenty five acres of this farm is meadow land.

I will also sell the Hamilton farm, of 115 acres, in Butler and Cumberland townships, adjoining the Beatty farm. It is improved with two story house, bank barn, stone spring house and all necessary out-buildings.

Mrs. J. Emory Bair,

Bell Phone.

Carlisle Street,
Gettysburg, Pa.THE WESTERN MARYLAND RAILWAY

Schedule Effective Sunday, June 20, 1915.

Daily, leave 6:50 a. m. for Baltimore, stopping at New Oxford and Hanover.

Daily except Sunday, leave 9:39 a. m. for York and intermediate stations.

Daily, 5:51 p. m. for Baltimore, York and intermediate stations. No connection for York on Sunday.

Daily, 10:16 a. m. for Hagerstown, and intermediate stations and the West.

Daily except Sunday 6:58 p. m. for Hagerstown and intermediate stations.

Daily, 11:22 p. m. for Hagerstown, Cumberland and Pittsburgh.

I will be in Gettysburg at Pen Myer's Jewelry store every TUESDAY to examine eyes and fit glasses
W. H. DINKLE,
Graduate of Optic

LATE SUMMER BARGAINS*Monarch Shirts

Dollar values, odds and ends, at 69 cents

A Few Oxfords

Just a small lot left at way down prices. For men and women

O. H. LESTZ,

The Home of Good Clothing

We give S. and H. Green Trading Stamps
Cor. Square and Carlisle St. HORDI GettysburgStore Open Evenings*A WAY, ON YOUR VACATION?

Let the TIMES follow you. A telephone call giving us your address will insure the daily message from home AT NO EXTRA CHARGE.

It will go to a different address every day—if you say so. We attend to the change and are glad to do it.

RACING MATINEE

AT HUNTERSTOWN,

Saturday, September 12th

Good lot of horses entered.

REFRESHMENTS ON THE GROUNDS.Probably the last of the year. DON'T MISS IT.*Concrete Foundations Cost Little, Last Best

A concrete foundation made of the right cement is like a wall of solid stone, without mortar to fall out or cracks to let in cold and water. Concrete foundations are most economical, and everlasting when you use

ALPHA THE GUARANTEED PORTLAND CEMENT

We will tell you how to make foundations of ALPHA, the cement that is guaranteed to more than meet the U. S. Government standard. Because every ounce of ALPHA is pure, live and active, it goes further than cheaper cements.

We can supply ALPHA in any quantities. It is thoroughly aged, and every sack contains tested cement that will give good results. Come in and get ALPHA for that improvement you are planning.

C. M. WOLF JR., Gettysburg, Pa.FUNKHOUSER'S....School Days....

Vacation days are over. "Nippy" weather's not far off—

School bells are ringing and school doors are swinging. Sharpen up the pencils, polish off the slate.

Off You Go—BUT HOLD!

That old Summer rig won't do—you've freshened up your bodies and freshened up your minds, now for a brand new toppy, snappy SUIT OF CLOTHES to match the youthful spirits.

You'll like the new fall models and the new fall shades, and best of all the PRICES. Come to us today and see for yourself.

Girl's School Dresses

We have the largest and best assortment of dresses for school we have ever carried. One look will convince you. Special Prices from 50c to $1.98, in Tub Dresses.

TESS-TED SCHOOL SHOES ARE BETTER.

Outfitters for The Family. FUNKHOUSER'S "The Home of Fine Clothes" P. S. New Fall Suits are now on display. Models beautiful, materials striking. Come to see the Fall Styles, whether you want to buy or not.

NOTICE—Beginning SEPT. 6, this store will keep open until 8 P. M. every evening. Saturday 10.00 P. M.